"General Order" Corruption.

The Charges Against City Thieves—Surrender of a Forger—Stokes' Bill of Exceptions—The Barnard Investigation—The War Veterans—Boiler Explosion—Examination of Evans, the Defaulting War Claim Agent—Struggles of Tammany.

NEW YORK, March 23, 1872.

"GENERAL ORDER" CORRUPTION.

Henry C. Bowen publishes a card concerning the imputations of the Tribune that he was interested at one time in the General Order business. He admits to signing a letter by which an agreement was made to pay himself and his associates thirty per cent. of the gross receipts of the General Order business in return for his influence in retaining the business for the parties. Besides this, the Tribune charges that he wrote an individual letter sanctioning the agreement. His defence is that he did all this for his associates, and did not himself make any money out of it. Ex-Collector Barney declares that the authority which Bowen exercised in the negotiations were wholly assumed and repudiated by him. Furthermore, Barney, on discovering the arrangement, at once stopped it. Bowen agrees to make good whatever was lost in the General Order business at that time.

THE BARNARD INVESTIGATION.

Gen. Frank P. Blair was called to testify against Judge Barnard to-day. The General said he met Barnard at the Astor House, and in a jocose conversation about the Erie and Union Pacific Railway cases, the Judge said he had rid New York of one set of blackguards (meaning the Union Pacific), and would do so for another (referring to Erie.)

Judge Ingraham said Barnard accidently took cognizance of the divorce case of Fields against Fields, in consequence of his (Ingraham's) absence.

A lawyer testified as to the case of Samuels vs. the Evening Post for libel, but nothing of importance was elicited. There are fifty witnesses for the defence.

THE CHARGES AGAINST CITY THIEVES.

The prosecution will now probably bring Mayor Hall's case before the Court of General Sessions. Hall's counsel are rather jubilant over what they consider the triumphant termination of the late trial. They say their defence was not mainly in the Mayor's own testimony.

The indictments against Tweed and others charge them with deceiving the Mayor, while the Mayor is charged with signing a fraudulent warrant. The defense are awaiting the commencement of further proceedings on the part of the prosecution.

THE WAR VETERANS.

The War Veterans' Association, at a recent meeting, endorsed the bill lately introduced in Congress by W. T. Sessions for increased pensions to soldiers and sailors who lost both eyes, both legs, both arms, feet or hands. They state that there are in the United States two hundred and sixty-one soldiers who lost both eyes, one hundred and eighteen who lost both legs, eleven who lost both feet, five who lost both hands, thirty-two who lost both arms, and sixteen who lost an arm and a leg. The increase asked for by the bill will only add $15,000 to the pension appropriation.

SURRENDER OF A FORGER.

Wm. Hennessey Cooke, who was indicted by Judge Bedford's Grand Jury for forging warrants against the city, yesterday returned to the city and surrendered himself. He was bailed in $10,000. Cooke has been in the confidence of the Tammany Ring, and is said to have important knowledge of the vouchers thefts, concerning which he will probably testify next week.

BANKRUPT EXPRESS COMPANY.

The creditors of the New York and Boston Express Company, against which a petition in bankruptcy is now pending, held a meeting to-day. A committee was appointed to confer with the officials of the Erie Railroad as to what arrangement could be made with regard to their claims, to report on March 27.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

The boiler in the Trenton Rolling Mills, in Jersey City, exploded to-day, destroying the blacksmith shop and a portion of the main building. Five men were injured, and Hughes, boiler tender, is missing. Loss $6,000.

SUIT WITHDRAWN.

The case of Luther B. Challis against the Pacific Mail Steamship Company was withdrawn this morning. The defence admitted the good character and financial standing of Challis.

THE OHIO FORGER.

John P. Sidle, the Ohio forger, was taken West last evening by an Ohio Sheriff, under a requisition from Governor Noyes.

TAMMANY.

A new enrollment of Tammany has been ordered by the Society, commencing on the 25th inst.

BAIL IN LIBEL SUIT.

Dana, editor of the Sun, has given ten thousand dollars bail in the libel suit against him.

THE MURDERER STOKES.

The Stokes bill of exceptions makes nearly 700 pages. It will take a man a week to read it.

NEW YORK, March 24, 1872.

JUDICIAL INVESTIGATION.

Counsellor Strahan testified yesterday before the Judiciary Committee that after the papers were drawn up in the celebrated injunction suit against Tammany, he and his associates decided that if any man had the boldness to act judicially in the matter it was Barnard. Judge Barnard, on being applied to, accordingly granted the injunction, causing the present Judge Barret to remark that it was something that he would not dare to do were he a Judge. This injunction entirely stopped the city government and broke up the ring. No modification was made in this injunction except upon the recommendation of Comptroller Green. Judge Barnard gave valuable aid to counsel, and made the injunction stronger.

Jay Gould testified that he never paid any money to Judge Barnard.

J. O. Bushnell, of the Union Pacific Railroad, testified that the late Fisk told him he (Fisk) never received one cent of the $50,000 paid by the Union Pacific Company to ex-Judge Fullerton. It will be remembered that Fullerton testified, on the other hand, that he paid this money to Fisk. The committee is now anxious to know where this money went to.

EVANS INVESTIGATION.

A legislative committee visited this city yesterday, and took the testimony of the late agent Evans concerning the Pennsylvania war claim frauds. The ex-agent, who is stopping at one of the hotels, underwent a two-hour catechising in the presence of his counsel. The substance of his testimony was that not a single officer of that State received a cent of the money. The bulk of what he received during the four years of his agency was spent in liquidating all claims against him, which he considered debts of honor, in speculating, and in clerk hire. Of the money received as commissions he paid $6,000 to D. C. Forney, of the Washington Chronicle, $20,000 to S. F. Brown, a State agent, resident at Washington, $2,500 to the editor of the Harrisburg State Guard, and $6,000 to Dr. Trumbull, of Washington, for aid in referring vouchers. Witness was in doubt whether he drafted the resolution creating his office.

STRUGGLES OF TAMMANY.

The adherents of Tammany are busy reorganizing that institution. The more prominent leaders say that the men who have injured Tammany will have no part or place in the new organization, and that it will be conducted by respectable men, elected by the people at the primaries shortly to be held. A compromise is likely to be effected between the Apollo Hall Democracy and Tammany in reference to the election to take place under the new charter. There are already a number of candidates for the Mayoralty. The following Tammany chiefs were present among other names: John Kelly, Ex-Sheriff Casserly, Clerk Loew, W. F. Havemeyer and Comptroller Green. Apollo Hall presents a long list, the most prominent of whom are Senator O'Brien, Samuel G. Courtney, Ex-United States District Attorney and W. H. Wickham.

COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE INVESTIGATION.

No testimony of interest was adduced before the committee examining the County Clerk's office. Some lawyers said they had no knowledge of the existence of abuses. The County Clerk, in his testimony, stated that the net profits of the office were not more than twenty-five thousand dollars.

THE TORPEDO EXPLOSION.

It is reported that Louis Klueber, whose establishment in Beekman street was the scene of the torpedo explosion last fall, has been indicted by the Grand Jury. Henry Brown has sued Klueber for $5,000 damages for the loss of his son by the explosion.

VANDERBILT'S TRACK.

An enthusiastic up-town meeting was held last night in furtherance of a plan to secure the sinking of Vanderbilt's track from Forty-second street upwards. Vanderbilt had stated to one of the speakers that he consented to the sinking.

DOINGS OF THE BOARD OF AUDIT.

The Board of Audit decided yesterday not to pay the salaries of the clerks and assistants of the old Common Council until they are pronounced legal by the counsel.

FRAUDS COMPROMISED.

The Times says that it is rumored that the prosecution of Wm. F. Wild & Co., of Boston and New York, for alleged frauds on the revenue, were compromised by the payment of $600,000.

ARRIVED.

The steamers Humboldt, from Bremen, and Minnesota, from Liverpool, have arrived.

The steamers Cuba, from Liverpool, Thuringa, from Hamburg, and Bienville, from Aspinwall, have arrived.

PREPARING FOR DECORATION DAY.

The commanders of posts of the Grand Army of the Republic have commenced arrangements for the decoration of the graves of the Union dead on the 30th of May.

FIRE INSURANCE.

There Board of Fire Underwriters appointed a committee to consider the advisability of a general uniform tariff and to frame a scale of premiums.

A BOY MURDERER.

The boy Dunn who recently stabbed his keeper in the House of Refuge has been found guilty by the Coroner's jury. Dunn was committed for trial.

THE REGISTER'S OFFICE.

A lawyer testified yesterday before the sub Judiciary Committee that there were many instances known to him of over-charges in the Register's office. A slight altercation of words ensued between the witness and chairman of the committee, the former insisting that no consideration was given to his evidence.

VIOLATION OF REVENUE LAWS.

The United States Grand Jury are said to be preparing to indict a large number of whisky men for violation of revenue laws.

DENIAL.

A juror in the Hall trial publicly denies that there has been any conclusion among the jurors to acquit Hall, as has been stated.

ESCAPE OF PRISONERS.

Three prisoners escaped from Blackwell's Island on Friday. One was recaptured.

RAILROADS.

The U. P. Terminus Trouble—Letter from Judge James M. Love.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, March 23.—In reference to a telegram so extensively circulated that Judge James M. Love decided in the United States District Court of Iowa, held in Keokuk, that Omaha, and not Council Bluffs, was the terminus and initial point of the Union Pacific Railroad, Judge Love makes the following written statement:

Keokuk, Iowa, March 21st, 1872.—The court here gave no opinion as to what is the law terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad. I consider it unnecessary to decide that question. As to what could be inferred from the judgment of the court, I have nothing to say. Of course, every one is at liberty to make his own deduction. It is well known that the courts of the United States have no jurisdiction except what is conferred by an act of Congress, and my opinion is that the law of Congress gives no jurisdiction to any United States Court for the State of Iowa to authorize the condemnation of land for railroad purposes. On the contrary, this power is expressly conferred by an act of Congress upon the United States courts for the territories of the United States, through which the contemplated road was to be built. The court, therefore, held in the District Court of the United States for Iowa had no jurisdiction of the matter in the question. Signed, yours truly, J. M. Love.

The Iowa railroad directors have decided and will stand by their decision that in the transfer of goods they will not receipt for them further than Council Bluffs. The Union Pacific Railroad Company will receipt and become responsible for them at the transfer grounds here. They will recognize no third party. Five Iowa railroads terminating here will vacate their offices in Omaha on Monday, and take their entire traps to this side of the river, so as to be more convenient to the legal terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad. The Iowa railroad companies have give orders to their agents to have the word "Omaha" stricken from the tickets and "Council Bluffs" put on in its place.

OMAHA, NEB., March 23.—The statement as telegraphed from Council Bluffs that a Ku Klux Klan will be or has been organized by the Omaha people to tear up the railroads in Iowa and to interfere with the new bridge in any way, are utterly absurd, as are also the statements from the same source concerning the proposed action of the Nebraska Convention called by prominent men from all parts of this State for March 27. There is no desire manifested, but the questions at issue may be left with the courts. The decision of Judge Love, of the District Court of the United States for the District of Iowa, was given but a few days ago, that the Union Pacific Railroad Company had no corporate rights in Iowa, therefore no right to condemn property for railroad purposes in that State, and is the only legal decision as yet given.

The bridge is now in use by the Transfer Company, to which it was leased, having been compelled by the rise and choking of the river by floating ice, which prevented the transfer boats from crossing. An official advertisement of the temporary transfer over the Union Pacific bridge across the Missouri river at Omaha, appears this morning as follows:

Omaha Bridge Transfer Company, Superintendent's Office, Omaha, March 23, 1872.—On and after Wednesday, March 20th, the Omaha Bridge Company will be prepared to do carrying business over the Missouri River. We feel confident that the people of Omaha and the West will receive the arrangement with gladness, knowing the necessity of the bridge. They built it, and the same enterprising spirit shall not ruin it. Signed, R. B. Shelby, Superintendent; G. W. Homan, contractor.

ST. LOUIS.

The Policy of the "Democrat" Newspaper.

LOUISVILLE, March 23.—George W. Fishback made the first payment of the purchase money for the Democrat to-day, and presented secured notes for the remainder, payable in three and six months, which were approved and accepted by the court. Mr. Fishback will take possession of the Democrat on Monday morning. The Democrat will publish editorially to-morrow morning the following: "So many authenticated reports concerning the future management and course of the Democrat have been in circulation since the commencement of legal proceedings respecting its proprietorship, that we deem it proper to say that at no period of the controversy has a change in its policy as to national questions been in issue. The purchasing partner has been in his journalistic career an undeviating supporter of the principles of the Republican party, and his increased interest in the business of this journal makes him more, instead of less, concerned for the welfare and success of that party and its candidates. The Democrat, under his control, will continue to advocate the nomination of General Grant by the Philadelphia Convention, believing that the nomination was dictated by the highest consideration of political expediency and of patriotic duty. It will render to all candidates of the Republican party, State, National or others, a national and intelligent support, and to the principles of that party, as foreshadowed in the future by its record in the past, a cordial and vigorous indorsement, believing that by so doing it can best subserve the interests of good government and promote the welfare of the people."

ALBANY.

The New York City Charter—The Railroad Bill.

ALBANY, March 23.—The New York charter, reported in the Senate this morning, and made a special order for Tuesday next, has amendments made providing two Boards of Aldermen, instead of one, to be elected on the cumulative plan. The Commissioners of Public Safety are to be appointed by the Judges of the Superior Court. No salaries are to be paid to Aldermen or Commissioners of the Public Works or Park.

THE RAILROAD BILL.

It is understood here to-day that the bill introduced in the House by Alvord limiting railroad corporations to dividends of eight per cent. per annum, and giving the Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and State Engineer, as a Commission, power to investigate the affairs of the companies and determine the par value of outstanding obligations; and also what surplus of earnings shall be paid into the State Treasury, will be made the issue in the next general election in this State.

COLUMBUS.

Senate Proceedings—Republican Convention—The Liquor Question.

COLUMBUS, O., March 24.—In the Senate yesterday two resolutions were offered asking the Ohio Representatives in Congress to oppose any reduction of the tariff on wool. The resolutions were ordered printed.

A resolution was adopted requiring the Board of Public Works to report the cost of constructing passage-ways for fish over the dams in the Ohio.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republicans of this county, in convention yesterday, adopted a resolution pledging their support to the nominee of the Philadelphia Convention, by expressing a preference for Grant and Dennison.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

A grand mass meeting of citizens opposed to the amendment on the repeal of the liquor laws is to be held in the Opera House next Thursday.

POLITICAL.

Speech by Hon. J. B. Grinnell.

DES MOINES, March 22.—Hon. J. B. Grinnell, by invitation, delivered a speech this evening on the political situation, before a large audience, comprising the Governor, State officers and a majority of the members of the Assembly. He argued against renomination and in favor of James F. Wilson. The alternative would be the Cincinnatti Convention and a broad platform, around which the people would gather, and Iowa would be strongly represented at Cincinnati. The speaker was closely listened to and the speech excites much comment.

PHILADELPHIA.

The Evans Investigation—Mortuary.

PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—The Legislative Committee appointed to investigste the Evans fraud were in session here to-day. After taking some important testimony they resolved to go to New York, to take the deposition of Evans. The committee will meet at Harrisburg on Wednesday next.

MORTUARY.

The whole number of deaths this week, ending noon to-day, was 247, a decrease of 170; deaths from small-pox, 94, a decrease of 26.

CALIFORNIA.

Goat Island Cession Excitement.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—The excitement on the Goat Island cession is on the increase here. The Bulletin this evening editorially says it is satisfied of the intention of the company to build up an independent town to rival San Francisco on the Island and adjacent flats, and adds: "We are utterly opposed to granting Goat Island to the railroad company, for we are perfectly satisfied that this can not be done with safety to the people. We have gone just as far as we can afford to go."

BOSTON.

The Labor Question.

BOSTON, March 23.—The Boston Eight-hour League protests against the labor platform adopted at Columbus, Ohio, on the ground that it does not propose any remedial measures; it deals in matters of finance which are of no interest to labor; it does not demand the eight-hour system, or denounce the abominable factory system in the East; and it fails to recognize the late Congressional labor bill, or the labor redemptionists of Europe.

The House of Lords, adjourned over for the Easter holidays, will not re-assemble till the 8th of April. The House of Commons will adjourn on Tuesday next, to meet again on the 8th prox.

AQUATIC.

LONDON, March 23.—The annual race between the eight-oared crews of Oxford and Cambridge Clubs took place to-day over the usual course, four miles and two furlongs, from Putney to Mortlake on the Thames, and resulted in favor of the Cambridge men. The day was unfavorable, both for spectators and contestants. A snow-storm prevailed all morning, and at one time it was reported and generally believed that the race would be postponed. To this report perhaps as much as to the inclemency of the weather was due the fact that the attendance of spectators was very meagre in comparison with the crowds which this contest usually attracts to the banks of the Thames. Nevertheless there were many thousands of people assembled along the course despite the unfavorable surroundings, and cheered lustily as the various events of the race seemed to change the probabilities of its issue. At the hour of starting the snow was still falling heavily, and the water of the Thames was rough and lumpy, but the boats drew into the stream promptly and were greeted with rounds of cheers from either bank. The Oxford boat had the lead at the start, but kept it for less than half a mile, the "light blues" coming up and going ahead at Bishop's Creek. The next mile was a steady pull by both crews, the Cambridge boat keeping its slight advantage. Opposite the soap works the "dark blues" spurted and reached the side of the Cambridge boat. For a short distance the boats were head and head, but the Cambridge crew soon slightly increased its stroke and passed Hammersmith Bridge a length in advance. This advantage was kept up until the boats came to what is known as Corney Reach, where the water was found to be lumpy, and the Oxford's superb rowing and fine steersmanship gained on their rivals. The Cambridge boat was badly steered through the Reach past Chiswick Eyat, but directly afterwards answered well to the call of Goldie, with a spurt of thirty-seven strokes per minute. Thence to Barnes' Railway Bridge the struggle between the contending crews was a series of severe and continued spurtings, during which the Oxford men reached as high as forty-two strokes per minute. The Cambridge boat, however, continued to lead, and finished in good style, passing the ship at Mortlake one length and a half ahead, in twenty-one minutes and fourteen seconds. Another account fixes the time at twenty-one minutes and fifty-three seconds.

DEPARTURE OF THE QUEEN.

LONDON, March 24.—The Queen departed this morning for Berlin via Paris. A dispatch from Cherbourg announces her Majesty's arrival there this afternoon. A special train was waiting, on which the Queen and suite embarked for Paris, where, it is expected, the royal party will arrive at two o'clock to-morrow morning. The Queen will politely decline to meet Thiers, and continue her journey to Berlin as privately as possible.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

LONDON, March 24.—The Observer says the second note of Earl Granville in regard to the Alabama claims is most friendly and conciliatory in tone, but states explicitly that England is unable to submit the question of the admissibility of the claims for indirect damages to the Board of Arbitrators at Geneva. The Observer describes the dispatch as very lengthy.

ANTI-INTERNATIONAL MEETING.

A meeting was held at Cork last night to denounce the International Society. The proceedings were disorderly. There was some fighting among the audience.

TAX REDUCTION.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer will make his financial statement to the House of Commons to-morrow. It is expected that he will propose a reduction of two per cent on the income tax.

FRANCE.

THE COMMERCIAL TREATY.

PARIS, March 23.—Lord Lyons, English Ambassador to France, and Senor Olozaga, the Spanish Ambassador, have had a lengthy interview with Count De Remusat, Minister of Foreign Affairs, relative to the French commercial policy. It is stated that the two Ministers expressed the deep regret felt by their respective Governments at the course pursued by France, and that Senor Olozaga further stated that if the duties were collected in contravention of the treaties, which do not expire until 1877, Spain would be forced to make reprisals.

DUEL BETWEEN EDITORS.

PARIS, March 24.—A duel was fought yesterday between Rozat, of the Pays newspaper, and Richardet, of the Corsaire. The latter was wounded in the chest.

THE SIEGE.

The Committee of Initiation reported unfavorably to the Assembly on the proposal to raise the state of siege in Paris.

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The taxes established within the last few months have produced five hundred millions francs, which exceed the estimates thirty millions. The Government is now disposed to postpone the debate on its proposition to tax raw materials until after the recess.

CHINA.

STEAMER LOST.

HONG-KONG, February 17.—The steamer Survanado was lost on the rocks near Foo Chom. All hands were saved.

STARVATION.

There is terrible starvation and suffering in the vicinity of Tien-Tsin in the flooded district. Many are dying of starvation daily.

REVOLUTION IN THE ARMY.

The details of the revolt of native troops in Camla Molta shows that the conspiracy was general for a rising throughout the island. Had not an accident precipitated the rising at Camla, before arranged, few Europeans would have escaped. The prisons are filled with suspected persons, including many Creoles. Every insurgent taken was bayonetted or shot.

ROME, March 24.—The Prince and Princess of Wales have arrived here.

Fournier, the French Minister, has also arrived.

ADJOURNED.

The Chamber of Deputies yesterday approved Minister Sella's financial scheme, and adjourned until April 15th.

BY MAIL.

THE North German Gazette publishes an address from the students of Berlin to German students in general, inviting them to co-operate in founding at the University of Strasburgh a scholarship to be called the "Bismark Scholarship." It is intended, of course, as a memorial of the recovery of Alsace through Prince Bismark's policy.

THE royal plate of Windsor, which is kept in a tolerably sized room and an adjoining closet, is valued at £1,750,000 sterling! There is one gold service, formed by George IV., to dine one hundred and thirty guests. Some pieces were taken from the Spanish Armada, some brought from India, Burmah and China. There are thirty dozen of plates which cost twenty-six guineas each plate.

THE rent-roll of the Tichborne estate is upward of sixteen thousand pounds a year. Assuming that the trial has cost two hundred thousand pounds, this could be easily raised at four per cent. on the property, and the interest payable thereupon would represent half the income. The present Baronet being a minor, who will not be of age for many years, would probably be allowed only a thousand a year for educational and other expenses, so that by the time he attains his majority, the property will have fully recovered the costs caused by "the claimant."

THE interest which always attaches to the announcement of the Cambria (England) mathematical tripos is hightened, this year, by a tragic incident. The senior wrangler is Robert Webb, of St. John's College, and his father died during the progress of the examination, which continues for days. Lest the knowledge of his death should interfere with the son's success, the event was withheld from him, and he heard about the same time of his loss and of his splendid success.

THE provisions of the pending manifesto of the "Eighty" members of the French National Assembly favorable to the claims of the Connt de Chambord are mainly as follows: That France shall be governed by a hereditary and traditional monarchy; that the Constitution shall be according to the plan drawn up by Count Beugnot, with an Assembly and House of Peers, the latter not to be hereditary; the present relations of the Catholic Church with the State to exist, but with full freedom for worship and subsidy to other religions.

THE CAPITAL.

The Treaty of Washington—Weather Probabilities—Investigations.

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1872.

THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

But little interest is now expressed among public men relative to the Albama claims. Some of those who were strong friends of the treaty now say they are indifferent as to whether or not its provisions are carried into effect. There seems to be no disposition in any quarter to yield to the British view of the question.

INVESTIGATIONS.

The Custom House Committee have only four or five witnesses remaining to be examined. It is probable that they will next call witnesses on the San Domingo subject, as Gen. Babcock is the only witness who thus far has been examined, and he knew of no corrupt influences having been used to promote annexation.

The House Committee on Expenditures in the War Department have nearly concluded their examination on the sales of arms.

WEATAER PROBABILITIES.

The failing barometer will extend during to-night and on Monday from the Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic, with increasing easterly and southerly winds and a rising temperature. The area of rain will extend over the Southern States, and cloudy weather with rain and snow from thence to Lake Erie and the Upper Lakes during the night, and over the Middle States very generally as rain on Monday. A rising barometer, north-westerly winds and clearing weather will extend eastward over the Mississippi valley during to-night, and probably over the upper lake region, Ohio valley and Gulf States on Monday. Dangerous winds are not anticipated for the Atlantic and Gulf.

UTAH.

The Weather—Mining Prospects—Prisoners Awaiting Trial—Newspaper to Reappear.

SALT LAKE, March 24.—Passengers report the Union Pacific Railroad in fine order. Trains arrive on time. The snow is rapidly disappearing in the mining districts.

MINING PROSPECTS.

The miners are anticipating an unusually prosperous season. The prospects generally were never so favorable. A large party of eastern capitalists arrived last night to examine property.

AWAITING TRIAL.

United States Marshal Patricks reports one hundred and twenty-eight prisoners in his custody awaiting trial—mostly for high crimes.

NEWSPAPER TO REAPPEAR.

The Daily Review, a Gentile newspaper, will reappear next week under the control of Oscar G. Sawyer and Samuel Jones.

CHICAGO.

Accidents.

CHICAGO, March 23.—By the falling of a high wall on the site of Lill's Brewery, in the south division, this morning, seven men were injured; one, Joseph Apfle, fatally.

The boiler of a locomotive on the Michigan Central track, drawing a heavy train, exploded this morning with great violence. Only the engineer was injured.

—Trains on the Belleville and Southern Illinois rail road have been stoned lately, and the lives of passengers endangered by a gang of scoundrels. Near Pinckneyville, on Thursday night last, two men were arrested in the act and while being searched by the City Marshal, one drew a knife and stabbed him, inflicting a wound thirteen inches long, whereupon the marshal shot the desperado dead.

Indian Idols in Iowa.

The Dubuque Times says that at the base of what is known as Capitola Bluff, seven miles from Lansing, there is an Indian idol manufactured out of the solid rock, which has stood there, no one nows for how many centuries, but which must soon be removed to make room for the coming railroad. At a little distance the idol resembles a huge bear reposing upon its hauches. The strange and uncouth object is still held in the utmost veneration by all Indians, and the various bands, as they pass up and down the river, invariably stop and endeavor to propitiate the idol with liberal presents of tobacco, strings of gaudy-colored beads, pieces of dry buffalo tongue, etc. There it sits, at the base of the bluff, mute and solemn, looking out with expressionless eyes over the bosom of the mighty river that murmurs at its feet, never mourning, never speaking, like another sphynx. The ground whereon the throne of the idol reposes is wanted for the road-bed, and the silent, expressionless god, whose brow has been bathed in the morning sunlight of so many centuries, must fall. But a short distance from this is a smaller idol, which had evidently been placed on the side of the bluff, but by some convulsion of nature was overturned centuries ago and pitched into the river. During high-water it is completely covered, but in lowwater the head and part of the body are distinctly visible.

Phosphorus in the Body.

Of phosphorus every adult person carries enough (1½ pounds) about with him in his body to make at least four thousand of the ordinary two-cent packages of friction matches, but he does not have quite sulphur enough to complete that quantity of the little incendiary combustibles. This phosphorus exists in the bones and in the brain, and is one of the most important constituents in the body. Every school-boy is acquainted with those strange metals, sodium and potassium, for he has seen them flash into a brilliant flame when thrown upon water. The body contains two and a quarter ounces of the former and a half ounce of the latter metal; enough for all needed experimental purposes in the schools of a large city. The twelve grains of magnesium would be ample in quantity to form the "silver rain" for a dozen rockets, or enough to create a light which, under favorable conditions, could be seen for a distance of twenty miles.—[From Fireside Science.

PROF. Hibbard, a Connecticut elocutionist, while delivering a lecture at Montreal, was suddenly deprived of memory. He cannot tell his own name or recognize his family.

A PRINCE OF SWINDLERS.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives a long and interesting account of the career of a young Frenchman recently convicted of fraud and condemned to five years imprisonment:

In the month of April last the police were informed that many robberies had been committed in France and abroad by an individual assuming the name of Macdonald, Marquis de Tarente. So numerous were the complaints that the Duke and Duchess of that name were compelled to advertise the fact that they knew nothing of the individual in question, who had visited Lille, Paris, Rouen, Havre, Calais, London, Brussels, Spa, Berne, Marseilles, Florence, Bigorre, Limoges and Atun, at which latter place he was arrested in November. His father, it appears, is a grocer at Passy, and his real name is Jules Hurel. His education seems to have been an unusually good one, while his manners and appearance were particularly pleasing. During the war he had served as a volunteer, and had made the acquaintance of the Marquis de Tarente, who gave him his own passport. This, of course, formed the groundwork, if it did not absolutely suggest the idea, of his fraudulent career. He procured the uniform of a captain of the staff, the Cross of the Legion of Honor, and several war medals, gave himself out as the aide-de-camp of Marshal MacMahon and of M. de Gallifet, and said that he escaped from Sedan after the capitulation. In this way he victimized the credulous Bruxellois. In Paris he became intimate with a Swedish banker, who introduced him to his tailor, and with a captain of artillery, who received a revolver as a souvenir of affection for having recommended him a good hosier. From Paris he seems to have proceeded to Florence, where he ingratiated himself with the French Charge d'Affairs by subscribing for the reconstruction of the Palace of the Legion of Honor. At Marseilles he passed himself off as the Comte Beaumont, and received a telegram signed Achille Murat, at the hotel where he stayed, announcing the arrival of the Prince and M. de Gallifet, whose wife's portrait he carried in a locket. Among the documents used to establish his pretended identity, was a marching order in the name of Macdonald, Marquis de Tarente, captain and adjutant-major, staff-officer of General de Gallifet. He was further in possession of a passport obtained from the French Embassy at Brussels during the Commune; a passport in the name of Beaumont, dated from Bordeaux, and a legalization of the signature of Macdonald, Marquis de Tarente, which he used as a confirmation of his identity.

With the help of these papers and his own ingenuity, the sham marquis lived for nine months in a style suited to the rank he had assumed, and though the evidence only makes out a total of 15,000f, it is certain that his depredations far exceed that sum. Indeed, he allows having "obtained" 20,000f, and alleges that he won 80,000f at the gaming-tables at Spa. The following is a chronological list of the robberies brought home to him: March 20, at Lille, obtained 100f from the bank of Hirsch & Co., against an I O U signed Marquis de Tarente; March 28, at Paris, received 500f from the deputy-governor of the Credit Foncier, upon a statement that he was the Marquis de Tarente, and an intimate friend of M. de Soubeyran; April 4, at Paris, induced the cashier of M. Dolfus, the agent-de-change, to lend him 400f in the absence of his principal; in the course of the same month he accosted the son of the Swedish Consul, and reminded him that they were introduced to each other at Wiesbaden, by Count Yormoloff; he attempted to impose on Madame Ponyer-Quertier, wife of the Minister of Finance, but that lady seems to share her husband's acuteness in money matters: at Rouen he got 200f. from the Comptoir d'Escompte by producing a commission of lieutenant of dragoons; and at Havre he obtained three or four sums, ranging in amount from 200f. to 800. From Harvre he doubtless crossed to Southampton, as we next find him in London unsuccessful in an attempt to negotiate a loan with Baron Erlanger, who happened to know the real Duc de Tarente. Foiled by the German financier, he seems to have been more fortunate with a city of London banker, who advanced him 100f. At Spa, the director of the tables advanced him 250f., the sum usually allowed to unsuccessful players "to go away with." From the director of the Saxon (Switzerland) gaming establishment he obtained 800f. on a bill drawn by the Marquis de Tarente, and from there proceeded to Bagnieres de Bigorre, where he assumed the name of Comte de Beaumont, and succeeded in getting 5,000f. from a banker, a hotel-keeper, and the director of the casino. At Toulon he stole a watch and chain from a young lady with whom he pretended to be in love, and paid the hotel bill by a check on his Paris bankers. At Limoges he obtained a breechloader on hire, but the gunmaker's suspicions being aroused the Marquis de Tarente was watched. He left the town and went on to Autun, where he was arrested just as he was about to victimize a banker there by the liberal use of the name of the Prefect.

That this ingenious swindler was a person of no ordinary ability, the following incident will show: He had been passing himself off as the Marquis of Tarente at Besancon, and his imposture was discovered just as he left that place for Dijon. He had in some way learnt that the police of the latter town had been communicated with, but, instead of changing his route, he arrived at the Dijon station, accosted a gendarme, and requested to see the commissaire de police. "I am," he said, "the Comte de Beaumont, and came to tell you that I traveled from Besancon with an imposter, who endeavored to pass himself off as the Marquis de Tarente." The train was searched, but the fictitious Marquis had, of course, mysteriously disappeared, while the Comte de Beaumont made a pleasant sojourn in the capital of the Bourbonnais. At his trial this ingenious youth saved the public prosecutor as much trouble as possible by candidly confessing all that was alleged against him, and seemed agreeably surprised to find that at the end of five years he would be free to add a fresh chapter to the chronicles of a life already so eventful.

POLITICAL.

THE Cincinnati Commercial considers the nomination of Davis and Parker a flat failure.

THE Kansas Magazine states that they have in Kansas to-day at least one self-assured and hopefully-waiting political aspirant to every acre of improved land.

THE Winterset News says that recently in Indianola, Iowa, a negro came within four votes of being nominated for Mayor over a white man who has been a resident of this place for a number years.

THE Rhode Island Democratic State Convention met on the 20th, at Providence, nominated State officers, and elected delegates to the National Convention, should one be held, but adopted no resolutions.

THE Minneapolis "Freie Presse," one of the leading German Republican newspapers in Minnesota, has announced itself opposed to the re-election of President Grant; and the defection causes some excitement among the politicians of that State.

THE friends of Judge William G. Riley, a native loyalist of the Eastern Shore of Virginia, want to run him for Governor of that State on the Grant platform. The Judge is extensively travelling the State as a Special Agent of the Southern Claims Commission.

MRS. HOOKER has written to the Town Agent of New Haven, Mr. Anthony, seeking the appointment of a day to argue before the select-men the appeal of the women who were refused registration in this city. An early reply was requested, and whether or not Mrs. Hooker will be heard will soon be made known.

THE Ogdensburg "Journal" thinks that if the Democrats could be induced to vote for Mr. Charles Francis Adams for President, a great revolution would be accomplished. It confesses that "the pang of defeat would be broken by the glorious spectacle of the whole Democratic party supporting a good Republican for the presidency."

THE New Haven Register (Dem.) thinks that the Cincinnati Convention will make no nomination and that Grant's opponent will be either Adams, Brown, Trumbull or Davis. Of these four it prefers Adams, and considers Davis the weakest. It does not believe in conciliating Horace Greeley by any surrender of the free-trade plank, which it considers the strongest in the platform.

IN the prayer of Chaplain Cudworth, at the opening of the session of the Massachusetts House on the 20th, he expressed the fervent hope that the members would act favorably toward the question of woman suffrage. At the close of the prayer, Mr. Kimball, of Boston, raised a point of order that under the rules no person not a member could discuss matters pending before the House. The Speaker sustained the point.

An Aminadab Sleek Comes to Grief.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: About eighteen months ago one J. C. Wood arrived at Vevay, and gave out that he had been in business at Louisville, but had retired with a competency, and was then desirous to purchase a farm in a "quiet, religious neighborhood," where he could train up his children in the way they should go without subjecting them to the temptations of city life. He finally purchased some property about five miles from Vevay, and thither removed his family. He soon became the truly good man of the neighborhood. He was grieved that there was no church in the vicinity and resolved to have one. So, at his own expense, he converted a barn into a church. About once a month he sent to Louisville for a minister to preach. He collected the children of the neighborhood together every Sunday morning, and held a Sabbath school. He must have a name for his new church, so he called it "Kingley's Chapel." Wood proceeded with his work of endeavoring to subdue the stubborn soil and the sinners of his neighborhood until February 22, night, when he was arrested by two detectives for forgery and taken to Cincinnati, where he gave his captors the slip and has not since been heard from. He is charged with buying $10,000 worth of goods last fall of a Philadelphia firm with whom he was acquainted, representing that he owned and had paid for a farm in Indiana. He then took the goods to Louisville and sold them for $7,000—never having paid a dollar on them.

THE people of Helena, Arkansas, must be the most noble and chivalric upon earth. The scorn with which they repel the contaminating presence of a Yankee is truly great. A base Northerner, who had the hardihood to go there and sell plows and things on credit to them, knows all about it. After disposing of nearly all his goods in this fashion, a large fire effectually carried off the rest. There was nothing left for him to do but buy a little land near Helena and settle upon it with an ax, a frying pan and a spoon. No sooner had he done this than the before-mentioned chivalric beings, panting with indignation at this insult to their country, appeared in force, and in the most knightly bad language, notified him that if he staid there it would be at the risk of his life. He departed. The people of Helena are perfectly satisfied. And their debts are unpaid.

ACCORDING to Boerhave, the healthiest children are born in the months of January, February and March.

A CONNECTICUT rat, during the late cold snap, tried to nibble something from an axe, had its tongue stuck fast to the iron, and froze to death.

A PUBLISHING house of Columbia, S. C., is about to issue one of the Hon. A. H. Stephens paragraphs—"a Compendium of United States History"—in a volume of about 500 pages.

THE furore which existed some months ago in regard to narrow gauge roads has very materially subsided, and it would seem that the "sober second thought" has been productive of a more safe understanding, or at least appreciation, of the subject.

THE Cleveland Leader says: Henry Clay Dean has declared in favor of Judge Davis for the Presidency. Judge Davis doesn't swear, but he has privately registered an oath that nothing less than Dean's death can expiate this outrage.

THE Boston Post says: "Mr. and Mrs. Kohn, of Hartford, Conn., have applied for a divorce. Mrs. Kohn was a Christian girl who renounced her religion in order to marry Mr. Kohn, who is an Israelite. It is probable that they discovered their feelings did not Kohncide after all.

WITH the present high-buttoning coats, a boutonnre in the lappel is impossible, and our fashionable youths are wondering where they ought to wear them. Considering their decollete shirt collars, we would recommend that the rose-bud be worn at the throat, as a corsage bouquet. —N. Y. Mail.

THE Oil City Derrick says: The Ring is getting some oil—more than it should. We hope more than it will when we get the "Ring" buyers smoked out and "spotted." As fast as this occurs they will find themselves like Othello, their occupation gone and they shunned in the community as lepers.

MESSRS. DEXTER & NOBLE and F. H. Head, the latter gentleman of Chicago, have formed a co-partnership to erect a blast furnace at Elk Rapids, Mich. The excavating is to be commenced early in the spring, and the work pushed forward during the summer so as to be ready to go into blast in the fall early winter.

THE following singular verse appeared as poetry after a funeral notice in the Philadelphia Ledger of Saturday:

Our lovely Maggie Bell
Has gone to meet her brother,
Another bud in Paradise,
Interred in Mount Moriah.

THE Cleveland Leader says: Cleveland will soon be able to discount Pittsburgh in the line of coal smoke and soot. Evangeline would not stand a ghost of a show for being "robed in spotless white," fifteen minutes after her arrival in the city, and crows fresh from country pastures, are frequently mistaken for white doves as they fly over the city.

SIMONS & SLOCUMS' Opera House at Tenth and Arch Streets. Philadelphia, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning. The fire is supposed to have originated in sparks from fire works used in a transformation scene the night before. The loss was $50,000. Insurance $25,000. About $8,000 worth of additional damage was done to adjoining property.

THE Detroit Free Press says: Just previous to the death of a young man in the western part of the city, Sunday, he called for his watch, and died with it in his hand. No one attempted to move it for some time, and then when they tried to the grasp was so firm that the fingers could not be unclasped without breaking them, and the lifeless hand was allowed to retain the watch.

A WASHINGTON Territory paper says: "We learn that the Bellingham Bay mine was recently opened for the purpose of ascertaining the extent to which it had been flooded when it was found filled up to the height of about 400 feet from the bottom of the lowest level. The result was astounding to many of the employes who had been waiting for a resumption of operations on the part of the company, and a large lumber of them are now leaving.

BOVY St. Vincent states that the time is coming when the Mediterranean will be nothing more than a chain of lakes, and then a mighty river. The Sea of Azof is already converted into a stream—its shores constantly approaching nearer together. Tracks of water which extend from the mouth of the Don to the Straits of the Dardenelles may now be compared to Lakes Superior, Huron, and Michigan.

ST. LOUIS is to have a convention, after all. George Francis Train announces that on the 19th of October, "the day Lord Cornwallis handed his sword to Washington at Yorktown, in the presence of Lafayette and the Irish brigade," four thousand delegates, representing forty States, five millions of voters, and twenty-five millions of dollars in cash, will assemble in St. Louis and declare him the next President of the United States.

A CHICAGO widow loaned her physician $1,000, for which she took his note. When payment was due the Doctor declined to redeem his pledge, and having exhausted all her powers of persuasion the widow called upon him with a pistol. The Doctor, however, was quicker at vacating his office than the widow at handling her weapon, and after locking her in, called the police and soon had his fair creditor in durance.

AT AN inquest upon the body of Mattie Morton, in Burlington, Vt., the evidence proved conclusively that the girl came to her death by eating arsenic to beautify her complexion. She had been in the habit of eating cloves, pickles, chalk, &c., for the same purpose, and having seen in a newspaper that some ladies in the old country ate arsenic to whiten their skin, she took some of the poison for that purpose, and with fatal results.

THE Green Island Car Works, near Troy, New York, build annually 1,000 cars, varying in price from $500 to $15,000, and of every description. The works cover over an area of seven acres. The annual consumption of materials is 3,600 tons of wrought cast iron, 1,000 tons of coal, and 2,500,000 feet of lumber. The shops have a capacity for building at one time 49 full sized passenger and 80 freight cars. Nearly 400 workmen are employed.

THE brig Commodore Dupont, from Buenos Ayres for this port, arrived at Martin's Docks, Brooklyn, Tuesday afternoon, with her cargo on fire. The flames were first discovered two hundred miles from Sandy Hook, when the hatches were battened down, and sail set, in order to reach land. The fire was extinguished by the Brooklyn Fire Department, but it is impossible at present to estimate the damage. The cargo consisted of wool and hides.

THE San Diego Bulletin says that a number of families at San Diego contemplate purchasing a tract of land in the county and not more than fifty miles from the bay, and dividing it up into five or ten acre lots on which they will cultivate fruit trees and vines. Teams, farming implements, gymnasium, reading, lecture and library rooms, &c., will be held in common, as will also the kitchen and dining rooms. This will add another to our many experiments in communism.

A VINCENNES EDITOR vents his displeasure at the action of the Ohio and Mississippi road as follows: "We understand the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company has, in its wisdom, concluded to refuse all free passes hereafter, even cutting off the courtesy from the conductors, engineers and other employes. Though we were the originator of that great enterprise, we have never had the courtesy of a free ride offered to us, notwithstanding it is the custom of every railroad in the country to extend such privileges."

THE New York World says: The influential persons in Boston, considering that the musical jubilee is to be a sort of public affair, have resolved for once to relax their exclusive customs, and to invite Queen Victoria and the Prince of Wales to the entertainment. It will of course be understood in England that such an invitation is something out of the Common, and that the temporary entree to Boston society offered to their highnesses is by no means intended to prejudice America's indirect claims in the Alabama question.

THE N. Y. Tribune says: We should really like to know what Mr. Mace, the bruiser, can have been originally. His professional rival, Mr. O'Baldwin, has written a letter of an objurgatory character, alluding to "the dross of the dregs of society" from which Mr. Mace sprung. Now, Mr. Mace at present is a prize-fighter, of rather dubious standing, a rum-seller, and the keeper of a gambling shop; and if he only reached this social elevation by "springing up," pray where he did he start?

AN employe at the Hazardville (Conn.) powder works, upon going into a store-house where 100 open barrels of powder were waiting to be headed, put a pipe he was smoking in his pocket, as no smoking is allowed on the premises. He sat down on the edge of one of the barrels a few minutes, when he was called out to see a visitor. Arriving outside the door he discovered that his coat was on fire, the pipe not having been extinguished. A moment more and the whole establishment would have been blown into atoms.

AN ORDINANCE—To prevent Hogs from running at large in the Borough of Ormsby.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Ormsby, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that from and after the passage of this Ordinance a fine of two dollars shall be imposed upon the owner or owners of each hog that shall be found running at large within the limits of this Borough, and it shall be the bounden duty of the High Constable to seize and take into his custody such hog or hogs, and if no person shall claim them after three days' public notice of such seizure by three or more written or printed handbills or by advertisement in the newspapers, such hog or hogs shall be sold at Public Sale for the costs and charges accrued, but if the owner or owners shall within the aforesaid three days claim said hog or hogs and prove their property in them, they shall be restored to the owner or owners upon the payment of said fine of two dollars for such hog, and all costs pertaining to the same, which sum shall be paid to the High Constable, who shall be entitled to one-half of the fine, and the other half shall be returned by him to the Treasurer of the Borough for use of same.

Ordained and enacted this 6th day of March, A. D. 1872.

Special Attention

is called to the following threatening notice, published by the Babcock Fire Extinguisher Company:

"All parties are warned against buying or using fire extinguishers of any kind in which water impregnated with carbonic acid gas is used as the extinguishing element, except those manufactured by our company, on pain of immediate prosecution for infringement."

This idle threat, of two years standing, is only made to intimidate the public from purchasing the Gardner Extinguisher, which is totally different from the Babcock machine, and superior to it in every respect.

The claim set forth in the above extract, to the exclusive use of carbonic acid gas and water, is utterly false, and they dare not bring the matter before the courts. The

GARDNER EXTINGUISHER

Is fully covered by Letters Patent, and this company will guarantee the most ample protection to all purchasers. It has been adopted by the Supervising Inspectors, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the leading steamboat lines of the country, and by the fire departments of a number of our largest cities, and has saved MILLIONS OF DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY FROM THE FLAMES. Having four times the extinguishing power of other machines, it is naturally superseding the old-fashioned extinguishers, and undoubtedly stands without a rival.

THE NAME of Hon. James L. Graham is prominently mentioned in connection with the Republican candidacy for Governor, not with that gentleman's consent, however, we believe. His friends persist in naming him against his wishes. The contingency may arise when his consent will be given to the use of his name.

IN New York the question as to whether the Mercantile Public Library rooms shall be kept open on Sunday is to be decided at an election to be held by the subscribers. The feeling is very strong in favor of throwing them open, as the advocates claim that thousands of homeless young men will spend their idle time in them, if afforded opportunity to do so, who might go to worse places.

THE adroit movements of certain Liberal demagogues to entice the laboring element of the country out of the Republican ranks do not seem to promise to prove very successful. The Central Labor League of Massachusetts repudiates the platform adopted at Columbus, Ohio, on the ground that it smacks more of the wily intrigue of the politician than of any bona fide interest for the betterment of the working classes. The day has gone by for political charlatans to use the laboring people to suit their own purposes by playing the despicable part of demagogues.

A CELEBRATED Italian philosopher has made a wonderful scientific discovery, and we hasten to lay it before our readers. It is as follows: 1. The southern hemisphere of the sun is at present richer in protuberances than the northern hemisphere. 2. In general terms, the protuberances are numerous in those regions where the faculae are numerous. 3. The protuberances are highest in the regions where they are the most numerous. Prof. Langley, of the Observatory, will no doubt thank us for this timely notice, and our readers may congratulate themselves on having the important information.

THE Tribune now objects to political parties raising money "away from home" for political purposes. How about the Presidential election expenses? Will Greeley not willingly subscribe to defeat Grant in Pennsylvania? Would he not give something to insure the success of the Cincinnati nominee, providing he be a protectionist? Some persons are cruel enough to think Horace is getting scared, and hopes now to defeat Grant by "moral suasion" principles. If we wish to subscribe to assist our political friends in Connecticut or New York, we do not see that it is of the slightest importance to any one else, and if the Liberals find their treasury growing beautifully less, it is none of our funeral.

IT IS HARD to believe, and yet nevertheless true, that there has been found in the person of Rev. Sidney Corbett, of Quincy, Mass., a preacher of the gospel, who has asked his congregation to reduce his salary $1,000, as he feels able to reciprocate their affections for himself and devotion to the Church by making some sacrifice in their behalf. He should be ashamed of the act, for what a frightful set-back will the chilling example give to those "over-much taxed" workers in the moral vineyard, who were about to put in the usual ministerial plea of general debility in order to secure sympathy from their flocks in the way of contributions, to enable them to do up Europe in a three months' vacation. Wicked Pastor Corbett, little you know how much damage you have done in the way of dissipating the great expectations of your brethren of the cloth.

WHO IS HE?

The latest appointment by his Excellency, the Governor, is one Rev. O. H. Miller to the office of State Librarian. We have been asked by many who thought they knew almost every man in Allegheny county, who this O. H. Miller is. In fact we think the Governor's latest appointee is something like his late Auditor General appointment, a man whom the people of this county don't know. Why Governor Geary will insist upon crediting his appointments to Allegheny county, we can't understand. He cares nothing for the citizens of Allegheny county, and certainly knows by the vote he received, that we care less for him. If the Governor really wants to please the people of this county, let him mount the witness stand and tell them who got the money from the Evans steal. This is what we want, nothing more, nothing less.

THE WHOLE TRUTH.

We regret as long as State Treasurer Mackey, and Auditor General Hartranft were on the stand before the Evans Investigating Committee, that they did not tell all they knew concerning the affair. It has been known for some time that somebody has been tendering certain sums of money to the treasury officials, in order to induce them to "let up" in the investigation. It might be interesting to know just who those persons were, in the first place, and for whom they were acting, in the second place. We believe Mr. Mackey has uniformly demanded that the whole amount of Evans' deficiency to the treasury should be restored before he would "let up" in the slightest degree, and so far, this sum has not been proposed. We yet believe it will be forthcoming, however, and in order to hasten the matter, we urge again that the Governor be subpoenaed. John W. Geary may never take the stand in this matter, and we incline to the opinion, that if Mr. Graham shall "push things" a little, the full amount will be handed over to the State Treasurer. This is "a consummation devoutly to be wished," even more so perhaps than an exposition of the treachery, with a full [illegible] of the snakes who have been [illegible] Why is it that the Governor is not subpoenaed? We put the question again to [illegible] Graham. Is he not a citizen of the Commonwealth, and as such subject to its laws? Is there any reason why he should be exempted from this investigation? The public imagine that he can tell all about this Evans affair, and why drag in Tom, Dick and Harry who know nothing, and fail to call up the man who can unravel the whole mystery? We shall continue to call for this until the committee finish their work, and if Governor Geary is not subpoenaed, we shall expect Senator Graham—the chairman of the committee—to tell the public why. C. D. Brigham should have been examined, but he was allowed to escape. He could doubtless have thrown some light upon the subject, as he has been in the Governor's confidence during the last fall and winter. Why was he not subpoenaed? No whitewashing; give us the whole truth: the party can stand it.

—Since the above was put in type, we learn that the Governor will be called to testify. Will he appear?

INJUSTICE.

If the crime, for which our countryman, Dr. Howard, has been sentenced to a life of servitude in Africa by the Spanish authorities in Cuba, was simply attending the sick and wounded insurgents in his capacity of physician and surgeon, or was in having sold a medicine chest to a man who afterwards proved to be a rebel, then in either case is the punishment much too severe, and demands the interference of the general Government. We would not throw the broad shield of our national authority around an American citizen, who would leave his country in defiance of its laws, and enlist in the cause of an insurgent force in a foreign land, nor would we counsel the officers of the Government to interfere in behalf of an erring citizen, if his punishment was proportioned fairly with his offense. But neither of these is the case in this instance. Dr. Howard, though still an American citizen, was a resident in Cuba, and as such was subject to its laws. If he knowingly violated those laws by selling contraband goods to rebels, he ought to suffer proper punishment. If he acted from the impulses of mercy, and attended the sick and wounded insurgents, he still may be deemed guilty of offending against military law, at least. But he persists in stating that of the latter charge he is not guilty, and of the former he did not know that the person to whom he sold the medicine chest was an insurgent, and, in fact, there appears to be no proof that, at that time, he was.

But if Dr. Howard is guilty of both crimes (if they can be called such) we insist that he does not deserve the truly awful punishment of banishment to a penal colony in the wilds of savage Africa, where death is almost certain to follow. A fine or imprisonment, or both, ought surely to have satisfied the wrath of offended law. But should he be innocent of both charges, as he stoutly maintains he is, his government ought instantly to interfere in his behalf, and save him from the fate that awaits him. To this end it would be proper to order an investigation into the facts at once, and if our own countryman has been improperly dealt with, his restoration should be promptly demanded. The flag of our country, we trust, is broad enough to cover the form of the humblest citizen, though he be impaled among the jungles of a tropical coast. It is to that flag that we all look for the preservation of our rights and liberties. It has never yet failed to protect them, and it will not fail now.

A REVIEW.

We gladly take an hour of leisure to look through a curious article which appeared on Saturday last in our virtuous little conceit, published down in Virgin Alley, otherwise known as "the only Democratic daily of Pittsburgh." The youth who penned the article is the individual, we doubt not, who a little while ago, felt the noble institutions of the country tumbling down all around him, and all owing to the impressive and mortifying fact "that the Republicans had become indoctrinated with the theory of office holding." Democracy yearns "to become indoctrinated" with this same "theory," and our youthful quill driver is one of that unfortunate throng of "outs."

But to the article, which is headed "Political Corruption." It begins by stating:

"Our American form of government has been upheld as the most advanced and most perfect that has ever been in the world. Perhaps it is."

He—the writer—recollecting the laws of Lycurgus probably, which endured without amendment or alteration for the space of six hundred years, is not prepared to endorse the above statement wholly. He imagines, doubtless, that it is too sweeping,—that other "forms of government" may have "been in the world" better than ours perhaps. In order to have in a saving clause, he adds:

"Possibly if our elected and appointed legislative and executive officers were all honestly intent only upon performing their public duties for the best good of our people, the general form of government in the United States might be the best that could be devised."

Ah, then, we are glad the "form" may, after all, be the best; but that which interferes with the form, is the derelictions of office-holders. If the latter would all be honest, then the form "might be the best," or in other words, if all persons were saints, Heaven's laws might be good laws.

"It is too late in the march of civilization to fall back upon a kingly or an Imperial form of government; the masses of our country know too much to remain contented under either."

We imagine he is about right there. After thinking it all over, he says:

"We are yet in the first century of such popular government; and under it we have, within that brief period, grown to be a great power among the nations of the earth; abundantly able to take care of ourselves, and fearing no foreign encroachments."

That is tolerably good evidence that the "form of government" is not only good, but that the officers charged with the affairs of State and nation, have been and are no slouches. In fact, we begin almost to believe that the Post is astray in its reflections against the "American form," and its inuendo that if it were not "too late" we might go back to "a kingly or an Imperial form of government." But again:

"There must be something in our peculiar form of government tending to induce enterprise; and which gives a powerful stimulus to individual effort; for our population is composed of men from all countries, and of all sorts of nationalities; and only a few years elapse after their sojourn here till they merge into the busy American."

"Merging into the busy American," is quite fresh and good, we like it. We are glad to find that "our peculiar form of government" groweth better as our young friend progresses in his reflections. After all, there is no sunshine that is not succeeded with shadow, no sweet without the bitter, and we are told:

"Yet there are evils, gigantic evils, under which the American people are now laboring—carrying heavy burdens, up hill, and which are annually increasing. Indeed, they are now well nigh unbearable."

Carrying burdens is bad enough, but "carrying heavy burdens up hill" is truly "well nigh unbearable." The young gentleman ought to protest against the "gigantic evils under which the American people" including himself "are now laboring"—in fact he ought to pitch the burden off his shoulders, and quit staggering beneath it, as he trudges "up hill."

Again.

"The reflecting man" (that means himself), "no matter what may be his station" (if only a quill driver) "or his political opinions," 'Dem' or 'Rad' or 'Lib' 'Ref'), "cannot fail to perceive," (unless he is blind), "that the substance of our people is being sapped." Bad for the substance.

"For an explanation of this, we need not assume that human nature is now any different from what it has ever been. It is the same, always; necessarily so."

Yes, pretty much the same, the world over, Democrat or Republican—"Without regard to politics;" human nature is human nature, we suppose:

"It is an evil, that in our "free country," we should have a comparatively few enormously wealthy, while our millions remain poor, daily, hourly, rendering the tribute of the general labor or the country to aggrandize and pamper these few? If it is not an evil, then we may be laboring under a grave error in taking it for granted that there are any great evils in our land to be remedied, if increase of wealth, and its consequent, political and monetary power, carried with it increased goodness, and improved judgment, to be exercised for the benefit of the masses, the great disparsity referred to might not be wholly disadvantageous to the majority; but the working of these vast personal accumulations, which have distinguished our country above all others, especially during the last ten years, has been utterly demoralizing. Its baneful influence has ramified into every department; and public and private corruption are now regarded with complacency by Christians of nearly every denomination. Yet human nature is the same now and forever."

We give that up; it is too deep for us. We will pass round the hat and give the young man the contents, if he will parse that extract, our "idication don't extind that far."

"It must first be possible, else so much public stealing could not be. Whatever is possible, under any form of government, in the way of robbing the many by the few, we may regard as probable."

It is possible that this is probable, but we cannot tarry to discuss it now.

"In our country we see plainly that it is a certainty. It is indeed reduced to a science; and the unscrupulous thrust themselves into public positions for the sole purpose of suddenly attaining wealth, and maintaining political power. The remedy will never be found in the school, the college, or the church; or even in the army; where of late, so many brilliant geniuses have suddenly shone forth, stars of the first magnitude."

We did hope that "the school, the college and the church" were all powerful to correct great evils; but the army, "where of late" the young man has not shone forth a "brilliant genius" or anything else, is condemned too, as a remedy.

Ah, we have it now, bright, happy thought; the evils are all to be corrected; the burdens under which we are climbing up hill, are to be lightened; our "form of government" is to be proven good; our national progress is to be stimulated; the possibilities and the probabilities of human nature are to be solved; the problem of the American future is to be demonstrated; the downfall of Republicanism is to be secured; the national millenium, the political jubilee, must now come, through the following sovereign balm. Read and ponder!

The remedy and the only remedy for public pecuniary corruption, is by rendering it impossible. If we cannot so organize and conduct our government as not to tempt the corrupt, we will never get rid of national financial corruption.

The end of "public pecuniary corruption" must surely come if it be "rendered impossible"; but for the "national financial corruption" we fear there is no remedy short of conducting the government honestly. Our hour is up, and the entertainment must close, for the present.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

NUMBER FIVE.

The Statistical Division.

In the three divisions I have noticed, namely, the seed distribution, the plant raising, and the entomological, I have found but little practical utility. The one I am now to consider is different in this respect; it ought to be of great practical utility. If it is not, it is because of a partial and defective execution of its important duties.

I have stated the fact that in the purchase of the farmer's products every means were resorted to that prices might be depressed, as by representing a large crop, want of foreign demand, scarcity of money, &c.

In my organization of the Statistical Division, I sought to establish such a system of estimating the annual products of the farm, both vegetable and animal, as would sufficiently approximate to the actual amount, that the difference would not be material, and to publish these estimates, before the crops were sold.

Prussia annually makes an estimate of its crops, but it is not published until the crops are sold. Ireland takes an annual census of its agricultural production, as our census returns are procured, but it is not published until after the crops are sold and consumed. These countries are small compared with ours. We have the largest and most diversified agriculture in the world.

Prior to my connexion with the Department, it, as also the agricultural clerk of the Patent Office, issued circulars to procure information, I usually received them and found it impossible to make any return because they asked the amounts of wheat produced, or the number of fruit bearing trees, &c.

I had made agricultural statistics a study for many years, and had, in many ways, tested the impossibility of getting such information as is called for by these circulars.

But one thing every intelligent farmer knows. He can tell whether a particular product is greater or less than that of the preceding year, for this is a common topic of conversation among them, from the planting to the harvesting of every crop.

Upon this knowledge I based my plan of estimating the amount of the various crops annually grown and the amount of each farm stock. The figure 10 was assumed to represent last year's crop. In starting this plan, it represented the amount returned by the census of 1860. The increase or decrease was reported to me in tenths, as 11 represented an increase of one-tenth, or 9 a decrease of one-tenth, 13 an increase of three-tenths, 8 a decrease of two-tenths, and so on in the increasing or decreasing scale.

The returns from each county in a State were arranged together, and the general average ascertained.

This system was applied to the acres sown or planted; to the condition of every crop, and thus all crops wers monthly followed from the time of planting until all were harvested.

The county correspondents to whom the circulars were sent, were not farmers only, but produce dealers, so that any attempt through interest to misrepresent could be easily detected.

I tested this system in every way I could; for instance, after ascertaining the number of hogs in February I undertook to state from it, what would be the approximate number packed in the succeeding packing season. When I attempted this the first time the Chief Clerk of the Department begged me not to do it, for it was putting the system itself to too severe a test, especially in the first year of its existence, but I answered that this and all other tests ought to be made, so that if the system led to error it might be abandoned. I am gratified, even now, to know that my estimates of the amount to be packed were realized beyond my expectations, and in nothing could I condemn it.

European writers were surprised to find the number of bushels calculated and published, before the crops were sold by the farmer, and, as with the corn crop, before it was even gathered.

In estimating, from the general averages, the amount of a crop in a State, a good deal of modification had to be made in many country returns, from peculiar causes, of which the Statistician must keep himself well informed. If such modification is not made, gross errors in the totals will exist. The labor I endured I hope never to encounter again, but it was one of love, and, therefore, freely given.

And here let me say a word about the trite saying that "figures will not lie," by defining what are "statistics," and who is a "statistician."

Statistics embrace such facts as may be summarily expressed by figures, and a statistician is one who when he sees them, no matter how vast the amounts expressed may be, can either readily see the agencies that have produced them, or by investigation can ascertain them, knowing when he has, or has not, before him all these agencies.

A statistician, therefore, is far more than a mere accountant, or an industrious collector of columns of figures. The latter so often uses them detached from other statistics modifying them, that he makes them speak a falsehood, hence the saying I have referred to. Just as a witness would commit perjury who would state the truth, but not the whole of the truth.

Intimately connected with our own agriculture is that of Europe, for a scarcity there, even partial, advances prices here. To search out the state of its crops is a part of the duties of the Statistical Division of the Department of Agriculture. How far this duty has been discharged recently, I cannot certainly tell, for I do not see but a few of the monthly reports. The annual volume does not show the least attention to it. The country ought to have been apprized through it, long since, of the decrease in wool production in South America, the Cape of Good Hope, and Australia. The same causes operated there to lessen the production of wool that existed here, and the effect they were producing should have been carefully noted. Had this been done, the farmers would have reaped most of the gains, from the present high prices of wool; as it is, they have shared but lightly in it.

Cotton rules the prices of wool, and a natural effect of peace here was, by our own increased cotton production to lessen it in India, Brazil and Egypt. The great cotton crop of 1870 must, in an especial manner, have produced this effect, but to what extent it did so, has never been shown by the Department, as far as I have seen. The small crop of 1871 here found, I imagine a greatly decreased foreign production of both wool and cotton, and hence the present scarcity of textile material. That such important matters should not have been carefully noted, and announced to our farmers more than a year ago, does not indicate a proper management of the statistical division.

The attempt on the part of the Statistician to be, not only such, but editor of the Monthly Reports and the Annual Report, is as foolish as it is detrimental, and shows that the Commissioners have no proper conception of the duties of the Chief Clerk. It is his business to edit both Reports. And no one but a Statistician such as I have defined him, is competent to be at the head of the Statistical Division. Mere clerks can be trusted with but a small portion of the labors of this Division.

Having, as briefly as possible, noticed the Divisions of this Department, and shown how little of practical good they are accomplishing, when I again resume these articles, it will be to point out what ought to be done by the Department.

CITY ENGINEER.

PITTSBURGH, March 22, 1872.

EDITORS GAZETTE: In the issue of your paper this morning I find an article in reference to the office of City Engineer, and feeling an interest in the selection of an individual who would reflect credit upon the city, and at the same time upon the profession, I take pleasure as an engineer, in bearing testimony to the accuracy of the position which you have taken, and being desirous that our City Engineer should rank second to none of the distinguished individuals whom the said article mentioned, I would beg leave to mention Sigismund Loew as uniting in his person and experience qualifications for the position second to no man in the country, and desire in this connection to state that this is the opinion entertained of the qualifications of Mr. Loew by one of the most eminent engineers in the country as expressed by him to me some two years ago, and since then attested by his appointment of Mr. Loew to superintend and manage the determination of a route through the most mountainous and broken region crossed by the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Independent of his general qualifications as an engineer, Mr. Loew has been identified in the development of the city of Pittsburgh for upward of twenty years, and has been connected during that period with nearly all of the important schemes which have tended to make Pittsburgh what she is to-day, and no one can dispute that her future growth depends upon the continuence of the policy which energetically pursued has made her what she now is—the Birmingham of America. And in assisting in the development of these latent resources, Mr. Loew has founded an additional claim to the position which has recently been made vacant by the death of Mr. Moore.

Chicago boasts of her Cheesbrough, St. Louis of her Moulton, New York of McClellan, while neither of the engineers of the above mentioned cities possess a solitary advantage over the gentleman whom I would urge upon the city of Pittsburgh as being eminently qualified to impart honor and credit to her, and in doing this I feel assured that all those conversant with the qualifications of Mr. Loew will bear testimony thereto.

ENGINEER.

TUNNELLING.

PITTSBURGH, March 23, 1872.

EDS. GAZETTE: In these days of bridge-building and engineering, especially city engineering, there is much being said in regard to our public improvements. Being interested professionally in the progress of the art of building, and reading with care all that is being written on the subject, I have not seen proposed the plan for uniting our cities, and affording a good, safe and reliable transit for the immense traffic between them, that I am now about to suggest—that is tunnelling. Webster defines the word tunnel, as a passage for a road under a river, &c. Already this plan has been adopted in Great Britain, in London and in our own country in Chicago. The great tunnel under the Thames has proved successful in every way, and in 1864 plans and estimates were made for a tunnel under Broadway, New York, extending from the Battery to Central Park, distance of five miles, copies of some of the plans and estimates of which, I have in my possession. The great difficulty with our bridges seems to be that, in establishing the grade at the authorized lawful height above high water, it requires a long approach to get a practicable wagon way, Thus probably blocking up several fine streets and otherwise damaging property. Now with a tunnel, we find we can get practicable approaches, which of course would be descending, and in no way damaging any thoroughfare. I am of the opinion that this plan would be highly practicable, and in no way does it interfere with our river interests, or with the free and open use of our wharves and harbors.

I do not propose to give any details of cost or plans, for the modest reason that I have not been asked to, and it would be only a labor of love. But I have planned and estimated to my own satisfaction, and with some experience in the matter, that the cost in some places would be below that of a modern bridge.

FRANK W. SMITH, Civil Engineer.

[The plan, as proposed above, has been discussed in our columns before. If we mistake not, Mr. N. P. Sawyer and others obtained from the Legislature, some years ago, a charter to build a tunnel from this city to Saw Mill Run.—EDS.]

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

BECAUSE Mr. Greeley finds Grant hard to swallow is no reason why he should bolt him, and if he does he may find indigestion the result.

THE Courier-Journal says the GAZETTE is a bore. This is not the first time that we have remarked that the jokes of that paper don't appear to be so funny as they used to be.

THE Philadelphia Press is determined to wrestle with the name of the Spanish minister until it comes out victorious. On Thursday it had Admiral James Polo de Barnarde, and Friday it had Rear Admiral Polo de Barnabilo. There is no telling what a day may bring forth in the Press.

A. T. STEWART asked and received permission to keep an Irish servant girl who has the small-pox in a room in the upper story of his house. Thus it will be seen how the bloated bond holder is pampered. All he has to do is to ask and he is at once permitted to take care of a small-pox patient.

As an administration journal, we appeal to President Grant, if it really be true that he has taken the Spring and is holding it back until he is offered something handsome for it, to give it up. It is all very well to take your seasoning in this way, but as soon as the Democrats begin to blame you for the backwardness of the season, it is time to let Spring loose.

WE should very much like to know if an equinoctial storm ever before froze up the Allegheny river? We are opposed to this thing of too much conservatism, but we think the institution of equinoctial storms has been so long established and is so generally understood that it is confusing to find at this late date that it takes to closing up rivers in March.

WE should very much like to have a fine museum in Pittsburgh consisting of a large library, valuable collection of paintings and rare statuary. Will nobody give us this? Pittsburgh was burned down in 1845, so we think we might have such a museum presented to us. We had none for the fire to destroy but if we had had one the conflagration would not have spared it. And we cannot see exactly what more right the world has to raise a public library for Chicago than to raise a museum for Pittsburgh.

IN spite of the warm advocacy of the Democratic press, who preferred a foreign conspirator inimical to the interests of the country, to an American policy which they could not control, Colonel Catacazy has been received in rather a Siberian manner by the Czar and meditates retirement from public life, although a recent telegram did announce his reduction to a subordinate position in the Russian Embassy at Vienna. Perhaps by this time he is convinced that the American eagle and the American Fish are rare birds which should not be interfered with.

THE French have not only made up their minds to have Alsace and Lorraine back again, but some of them have made up their mind how. It seems that the Prince Imperial is to become Emperor and is to marry the niece of the Emperor of Germany, who is to receive the two provinces as marriage portion. As far as we can see this is an excellent plan—for the Prince Imperial, and at the same time restores the disputed territory without expending any of that vast ocean of blood which France was prepared to have her posterity shed for the purpose.

KIND WORDS.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, is one of the most influential and reliable Republican newspapers in the western part of the State. Although nearly a century old it is conducted with a spirit and vigor which many of its more youthful contempories emulate.—Pottsville Journal.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE while always first-class in respect to enterprise and the ability of its editorial conduct, is now more attractive and newsy in typographical appearance than ever. It would be hard to say now how the Gazette as it lies before us could be improved.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, is one of the ablest daily papers in Pittsburgh, and one of the most reliable Republican papers in the State. We are glad to note prosperity.—Indiana Progress.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, that staunch Republican journal, has always been a true and faithful exponent of Republican principles—has never wavered or faltered in support of the right. May prosperity attend it and success crown its effort in behalf of a good cause.—Greensburg Herald.

MR. MORRILL said that during the war some of the New England manufacturers had made large profits, chiefly by the great rise in the value of raw material they had on hand at the begining of the war, but that their profit on an average did not exceed 8 per cent.

RUPTURE TRUSSES.
Every one who may be afflicted with rupture of the bowels ought to wear a properly fitting truss to secure them from the danger of strangulated rupture, that is, when the rupture comes down so that it cannot be returned. Strangulated rupture is a fearful condition, and one which need never occur, if those who are ruptured were to wear a truss with sufficient power to remove the protrusion.
There are hundreds of people who have rupture who do not seem to be aware of it, nor of the attendant danger which it involves.
Every case of rupture can be relieved, and many of them cured, by timely attention. This is the time of year when such things show themselves, owing to the relaxation of the system incident to the changes of climate. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is supplied with trusses, and has them to suit every age and condition, and at all prices.

WHAT SPRING BRINGS WITH IT.
Regarded from a medical standpoint, Spring is not the delectable season described by vernal poets. On the contrary, its yield of intermittent fevers, bilious attacks, rheumatic pains, disorders of the stomach, nervous complaints, and pulmonary diseases, is almost as large as its crop of violets, snowdrops and cherry blossoms. The invisible seeds of innumerable maladies rise with the morning mists, and are scattered broadcast by the vapors of night. Who can resist their mephitic influence? Certainly not the weak by nature, or those whose nervous energies have been overtasked by mental or physical labor, unless they tone and invigorate their systems, and thus enable them to cope with the unhealthy influences by which they are surrounded.
The only medicinal agent by which this object can be rapidly and safely accomplished, is the great vegetable renovant and invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The operation of this celebrated specific is four-fold. It strengthens the digestive organs, regulates the secretions, improves the condition of the blood, superinduces a regular habit of body, and imparts such vigor and elasticity to the whole physical structure as to render it capable of resisting the action of the poisonous miasma, with which the spring atmosphere is always to some extent impregnated. Here, then, is a ready and certain means of escaping the disorders prevalent at this season, or (if they have already fastened upon the system) of conquering them speedily and thoroughly. The flavor of a medicine is not of much consequence, provided it does its work properly, but of Hostetter's Bitters it may be fairly said, that they effect a cure without outraging the patient's sense of taste.

PRATT'S IMPROVED BRACE AND SUSPENDER.
An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Be admonished in time and wear Pratt's Brace. Its most prominent parts are:
1. It is free from all irritating pressure under the arm. 2. It gently adds in expanding the chest and preserving a graceful and erect form. 3. It gives full and free action to the respiratory organs, thus promoting the general health of the system. 4. By preserving the body in an erect and normal position it facilitates and equalizes the circulation of the blood, imparting thereby cheerfulness to the mind and vigor to the body. 5. In design and workmanship it is without a rival in the market. 6. It is a Brace and Suspender combined.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
GENTS—We take pleasure in adding our testimony to the valuable fire-proof qualities of your Safes. We had used one (No. 10) about seven years, and during the recent disastrous conflagration in our city, it contained our books, papers, and a large amount of money and valuable collaterals, which we found, upon opening, in a very good state of preservation. The damage to our papers was but trifling. The binding of our books, in most cases, broke off when removed, but several of them have been rebound and are now in daily use. The currency and vouchers in the small wooden drawers were scarcely injured, and we had no difficulty in using them. Our office was located in the Chamber of Commerce, one of the largest buildings burned, and owing to the intensity of the heat, and all supply of water being cut off, by the destruction of the City Water Works, we were obliged to defer removing it from the ruins for three days, and then it was taken from a deep bed of burning material. We deem the trial sufficient to satisfy any one in regard to its fire-proof qualities.
Respectfully, Yours,
COOLEY & DWIGHT.

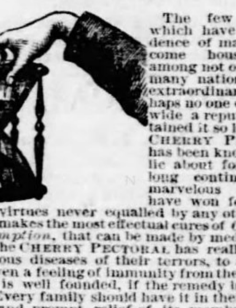
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.



The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvelous cures, which have won for it confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, March 23, 1872.

The local demand for money has been very light throughout the week, and as the spring season opens there is but little probability of any immediate change for the better. There are still encouraging indications of a large and growing business in nearly every branch of trade, which any temporary closeness of money cannot materially affect. The oil trade is almost the only exception to the general prosperity. The immediate trouble here, it is claimed, is the result of the schemes of the now famous South Improvement Company. The real trouble lies deeper, and it is one that "scheming" of no sort will wholly mend, though it may mitigate. The supply of crude oil largely exceeds the present demand, and until an equilibrium is brought about by the natural laws of trade, or the producers universally combining to stop producing, there can be no permanent improvement—the latter at best is but a make-shift, which will require constant renewal.

The market market for local securities in all classes was inactive and sellers were disposed to concede a small reduction in price to accomplish immediate sales.

The New York and Philadelphia markets were heavy early in the week, under the monetary pressure, but the reaction set in later, and firmer prices and a more active market is the general rule at both places.

—We clip the following from the Chicago Tribune, of Friday: The great feature in produce circles to-day was strength in grain, the feeling that seems to be prevalent over a large section of the country. The cause is that backwardness of the season. Scarcely an acre of ground has been broken up yet, or South, while the planting is usually under way at this time of the year. The weather this show that it continues intensely cold over the country, and the ground is frozen hard in the southern parts of this State, and after in the wells of large tracts of country, people begin to feel very blue over the situation, and a great number of country orders to buy are pouring in. It may be that after all, the crop of last year, which was so unwieldy, will be the salvation of the country by tiding over a year of great scarcity. In that case we shall have to go down into Egypt to buy as they did some forty years ago, and once that, in a still earlier period of the world's history. It is certain that if this cold weather continues a couple of weeks longer, the crowd will be up in arms on the subject of next year's prospects, which are discouraging, but will be quite poor if we should have no change for the better in that time.

A very good, though indirect, gauge of the situation is furnished by the demand for seeds, which though not in excessive supply, are very weak, owing to the absence of demand. People do not usually rush for seed till they are obliged to sow, and the backward season prevented them from applying for seed. Timothy is especially dull, having declined [illegible] ₽ bushel within the past few days.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, March 23, 1872.

APPLES—We can report regular sales $3@4 for common to fair; $4,50@5 for medium to prime and $5,25@5,50 for fancy.

ASHES—Soda Ash continues scarce and in demand and prices are firm but unchanged; common 7 cts; refined, 8; Nitrate, 5½; Pots, 10; Pearls, 11.

APPLE BUTTER—May be quoted at 55@65 for common to medium and 70@75 for prime to choice.

BUTTER—We can report a steady demand for the better grades and prime to choice may be noted firm at 30@32. Low grade butter in good supply and dull.

BEANS—Market almost bare and with considerable inquiry prices are firmer and tending upward; we quote prime to choice navy at $2,50@2,75 ₽ bushel.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and unchanged; small sales within the range of 6@9 cts, according to quality.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is quoted steady at 4½ cts ₽ lb, and $8,50 ₽ bbl.

COUNTRY LARD—May be quoted at 8@8½ cts for round lots, and 9 cts in a jobbing way.

CANNED GOODS—Unchanged; Peaches, $6@9 ₽ case; $4,50@5 for Tomatoes; $5@6,50@7 for Corn, according to brand—some holders are asking $7 for Winslow's.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at from $12 to $16 ₽ bbl, according to quality.

CHEESE—Is still reported scarce and firm but there is no change to make in quotations; 19@20 for Goshen and 17@18 for Factory. No Dairy in market.

CARBON OIL—Continues quiet and unchanged; 20 cts by the car load and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

DRIED FRUIT—Sales of prime halve Peaches, to the trade, at 9@9½, and in small lots at 10@10½; mixed stock, 8@8½; quarters, 7@7½. Apples in fair demand but unchanged; 7@8 for fair to good and 8½ for prime.

EGGS—May be fairly quoted at 25 cts; but if the weather should turn fine this price is not likely could be sustained long.

FLOUR—Is considerably firmer under the influence of the advices from New York and the west, and the indications at this writing are that prices will go higher. As yet however, there is no advance in this market and we continue to quote at $7,40@7,60 for common to good spring wheat; $7,75@7,80 for choice; $7,50@7,75 for fair to good red winter and $7,90@8 for choice. Rye Flour, $5,50.

FISH—Mackerel—No. 1 Shore, $19; No. 1 Bay, $16; No. 2 Shore, $14,50; No. 2 Bay, $13; No. 3 Lge, $9. In half barrels, quarters and kitts the usual difference of 32 cts ₽ package. Lake and White Fish, $6,25, Lake Herring $3,25, in hf bbls. Cod Fish—Georgia Bank, 6¼@7; Grand Bank, 6@6½.

GRAIN—The receipts and offerings of Wheat continue light but there is not much inquiry and prices, in consequence, are unchanged, $1,58@1,60 for red and 3@5 cts more for white, according to quality. The New York market has been growing stronger for several days past and the feeling is also firmer in Chicago and Cincinnati, and in fact, in nearly all the leading western markets. Oats firmer and the arrivals are falling off and we now quote at 48@50 cts for mixed to white; there have been but few sales recently above 49 but some dealers are unwilling to sell under 50. Rye is quiet and nominally unchanged; 96@98 for small lots, and a round lot might bring $1. Corn is generally reported firmer but there is no advance as yet in prices; we continue to quote at 57@60 for mixed to prime yellow. Barley is without quotable change and quiet; 75@80 for spring and 80@85 for fall. The operations in all kinds of grain have been light during the past week, as the demand was restricted to supplying immediate wants.

GROCERIES—The most interesting, if not the most important, feature we have to notice in connection with the grocery trade, is that our cotemporary, the Commercial, virtually admits, after a good deal of floundering, that our exceptions to its recent article on Coffee were well taken. It endeavors, however, to transfer the responsibility of the said article from its own shoulders, where it properly belongs, to those of Ezra, Wheeler & Co., of New York, coffee importers, alleging that its information in regard to "the excitement and half cent advance" came from that firm. However, this point is not material, as it makes but little difference where or from whom it derived its information, it was not true, and this our cotemporary is now, as already stated, virtually obliged to admit. It still insists, however, that there has been no decline within the past few weeks, or from the highest point, as we put it, while we insist that there has, and anyone at all cognizant with the grocery business will bear us out on this point. There has been a general decline of one cent ₽ lb in roasted Coffee in this market, within the past forty-eight hours, and, notwithstanding our neighbor's "bullish" propensities, it has reduced its quotation from 28 to 27 cts. This does not look much like an advance. Our remarks in regard to Sugars, at the same time, it now admits were correct, and says that brokers are asking for orders at an eighth of a cent decline, but intimates that they are unable to fill orders at the reduction. We would advise our cotemporary, if it desires to keep posted, to seek other and more reliable sources of information.

COFFEE—Rio—Choice, 25; Prime, 24; Good, 23½; Fair, 23. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 27; lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10¾; Good, 10; Fair, 9¼. Choice Porto Rico, 10¾; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, March 23, 1872.

Trade in petroleum has been quiet all week and there is not much prospect at present of an early improvement. Crude—Pittsburgh deliveries—quoted nominally at 9¼ spot or seller March; 10¾ for buyer until July, and 12 buyer all year. Refined quoted at 21¼ on spot; 21¼ March; 22 April; 23 May. No sales of either crude or refined reported.

Receipts of crude for the week, 7,662 bbls; last week, 7,592; January 1st to date, 210,363; same time last year, 142,202. Exports refined this week, 7,302 bbls; last week, 10,399; January 1st to date, 127,535; same time last year, 101,564.

As will be seen by the above, our receipts of crude and shipments of refined are gradually falling off; the average receipts of crude during the past two weeks have not been much over 1,200 bbls per day, whereas before that time it was from 4,000 to 5,000.

CATTLE.

The arrivals of cattle, as will be seen, were unusually large during the past week, but of these a large proportion were billed through and, consequently, were not put upon this market; indeed, we doubt whether the actual number of market cattle was much if any in excess of last week. This being the case, trade was fair and prices fully sustained—perhaps a shade higher for the best grades of which the supply was light. The quality of the offerings was common, consisting mostly of the common and medium grades; there was, so far as we could learn, but one drove of really first quality on sale, an interest in which was sold at 7¼ cts—it was held at 7¾, but there was no buyers at that figure. Prime 1,400 to 1,500 lb steers may be quoted at 7@7¼ cts; and, as already intimated, it requires something fine to bring the outside quotation.

There was, we understand, but one or two Philadelphia buyers in attendance this week, and it is expected, as Lancaster, Chester, and other adjoining counties, in the eastern part of the State have commenced to run a good many cattle into that market, that there will not be as many buyers from that point during the next two or three months—this is nearly always the case at this season of the year. However, there will doubtless be an increased attendance of buyers from New York, but what we want is plenty of buyers from both places, the more the better. Following is a pretty full report of the sales during the past three days:

HOGS.

The arrivals, as will be seen, were considerably larger than those of last week, and, with a diminished demand, trade has been dull and offish, and prices have still further declined. The demand for New York hogs has been, and continues, light, which is owing to increased arrivals at New York from Chicago, and, as compared with this day week, prices are off on this grade of hogs 35@40 cts ₽ cwt; we now quote at 4¼@4¾ for common to prime. Philadelphia hogs were also slow, but as the supply of this grade was light, the decline was not so great as in the former; may be quoted to-day at 5,25@5,40, according to quality. There were several bunches in the pens to-day unsold, and the indications for next week are not regarded with much favor, though all depends upon the arrivals. SHEEP.

The eastern markets, including both New York and Philadelphia, under the influence of liberal receipts, are reported weak and a shade lower, but our market seems to be as strong as ever, and, notwithstanding the offerings were fair, the demand was fully up to the supply and prices well maintained. Extra fine wool, 95 to 100 lbs, 9@9¼; 85 to 90 lbs, 8¾@8,85; 75 to 80 lbs, 7¾@8¼. Western coarse wool, according to quality and condition, 90 to 100 lbs, 8¾@9 cts; 75 to 85 lbs, 7@8¼. If money matters were not so hard east, it is probable trade there would be better, but it is thought nothing but diminished arrivals will keep up prices in the eastern markets until April 1st. In the west, however, the feeling is as strong as ever, and, from all that we can learn, farmers generally, in view of the excitement in wool, are indifferent about selling unless they can realize fancy prices.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant; however, it would freeze again last night and the indications for water are anything but good. The river was apparently at a stand with about three feet in the channel.

The Arlington is loading at Cincinnati for St. Louis.

The Carrie Brooks lies over until there is more water. She had to lighten on her last trip.

The West Virginia, arrived and departed as usual. She leaves here every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The Exporter is receiving where she lies, at the Allegheny wharf, for New Orleans.

The E. H. Durfee will depart for St. Louis and Missouri river as soon as there is sufficient water to let her out.

—We clip the following from the Sioux City Journal, of the 20th: Martin Coulson, a brother of the well-known S. B. Coulson, and for a long time engineer of the steamer Far West, will have command of that boat the present season. S. B. Coulson will take charge of his new boat, the Western, which will arrive here from below in April. Capt. Todd is building at Freedom, Pa., a new boat, to be called the Box Elder, which will run the coming season in the Northwest Transportion Company's line on the upper Missouri. The Box Elder will be 200 feet on deck, 32 feet beam, and 4 feet hold. Her engines will be first-class, with 15 inch cylinders and 5 feet stroke. The river broke up at Yankton at an early hour on Tuesday morning, being just three weeks later than last year. The river was rising rapidly; and in case of a gorge, damage to property on the bottoms is anticipated.

—Mr. Phil. T. Branham, clerk of the steamer Kate Kinney, while on his last down trip, and while the boat was lying at Natchez, was solicited by a lady of that city to make a contribution to some charitable purpose, which he did, and the matter soon passed out of his memory. On the boat's return up he was waited upon by the same lady, and presented with a splendid silver service of six pieces, with the pleasing information that his investment had drawn the handsome prize as stated. His luck has almost tempted him to set up housekeeping on his own hook.

—The Wheeling Register of yesterday says: "The work of surveying for the proposed bridge across the Ohio river, for the Wheeling and Ohio Union Railroad Company, has been in progress for the past two days." The New Orleans Picayune of Thursday says: "The Saline was sold by the United States Marshal yesterday, and was bought in for $7,600, by Vallette & Co., of Algiers." "The Richmond was re-appraised yesterday for $50,000; the former appraisement, it seems, was not enough. She will be bonded to-day."

—The St. Louis Democrat of Saturday says: Capt. John Noss, recently from Pittsburgh, has taken command of the Mollie Moore, and A. R. Bunting holds forth in the office. The Mollie took on a large amount of freight at the elevator, and sails early this morning for New Orleans. A dollar for one barrel suits her neatly: in fact she is willing to take that figure all the year. The Howard may get a still higher figure.

—Thomas J. Brown, who has been pilot on the Upper Mississippi, and who occupied the pilot house of the steamer Minnesota last season, died at his farm residence, three miles southeast of Milan, on Tuesday. He was much respected at home and among rivermen. His disease was consumption. He leaves a wife and several children.

—The New Orleans Picayune, of the 20th, says: We learn that Mr. Larry Entler, a well-known steamboat clerk, formerly in the St. Louis trade, died at Cape Girardeau, last night. The flags of the boats were at half mast yesterday, on account of the death of Mr. Thompson, an engineer on the river.

—Mr. K. J. Canfield, formerly a steamboat agent, died Wednesday night, at his residence in Louisville, of typhoid pneumonia. Mr. Canfield was the proprietor of the Eagle Brass Works of Louisville, and was doing a flourishing business. He was a member of the Boone Lodge, I. O. O. F., and leaves a wife and several children.

—The sale of five-sixteenths of the Andes, from David Gibson, Esq., to Captains Charles Muhleman, Ed. Muhleman, John Booth and Chris. Young, was consummated on Friday at Cincinnati, the purchasers paying for their interest at the rate of $34,000 for the whole.

—John S. Washington, a relative of the family which gave us the father of our country, and for 35 years marine reporter of the New Orleans Picayune, died at New Orleans last Saturday. Mr. Washington was a native of King George County, Virginia, and went to New Orleans when quite young.

—A St. Louis telegram, under date of Friday, says: The John F. Tolle, which left here yesterday for New Orleans, ran aground at the Barracks Crossing, and is still there. Commodore W. J. Kountz took the Mollie Moore this afternoon and went down to get her off.

—The Tidal Wave will soon leave New Orleans for the Ohio. H. I. Vinton wants her for the Tennesse, and J. J. Sylvester, of St. Louis, won't have anything to do with her at $25,000, the price asked.

—The license of Pilot Duffy, of the Richmond was not suspended on account of the collision of that steamer with the Sabine. He was fined $50.

—Capt. Milt. Aikin, after a protracted illness, has again made his appearance on the streets at Louisville.

DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner. Spermatorrhœa or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured.

Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.

The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhœa, Dysmenorrhœa, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 264 Penn street.

Knocked off a Train.

A conductor named Warfield, in charge of a gravel train on the Connellsville Railroad, met with death on Saturday afternoon by being knocked off a box car as his train was passing under a bridge near Moore's Station, this side of West Newton. The remains were taken to the home of the deceased at Ellicott's Mills, Maryland.

The Dead Infant.

The inquest on the body of the dead infant found in the Twelfth ward a few nights ago, was concluded Saturday evening by the testimony of Mrs. Catharine Frauhauser, who had occupied the bed with the mother of the child the evening of the birth. Her evidence was of a character tending to show that no unnatural means had been resorted to, and the jury after hearing it, returned a verdict that "the child had been prematurely born and that its death was due to natural causes."

Confirmation.

Bishop Kerfoot confirmed, at Trinity Church, yesterday morning, a class of twenty-five persons, nine males and sixteen females. Among the adults who received the laying on of hands was the Hon. Wilson McCandless. The sermon was preached by the Bishop, who also addressed the class in his customary appropriate and impressive manner. Besides the Rector and the Assistant Rector, the venerable Doctor D. C. Page was in the chancel and participated in the beautiful and solemn services. A very large audience was present. This was the first administration of the office of Confirmation in the new church.

Consolidation for Educational Purposes.

The following has been introduced into the Senate by Senator Anderson:

AN Act to amend an act entitled an act consolidating the wards of the city of Pittsburgh for educational purposes.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted etc., That so much of Section 54 of the act entitled an act consolidating the wards of the city of Pittsburgh for educational purposes, approved the twelfth day of February [illegible] sub-districts persons of [illegible] be and the same is hereby repealed. Referred to Educational Committee.

Fire in Allegheny.

Last night about 9 o'clock a fire broke out in the dry-house of Grubb's brickyard on Washington street, Second ward, Allegheny. The fire was occasioned by the bursting of a barrel of oil not far from the furnace. The burning oil was scattered in all directions, and set the wood ablaze wherever it came in contact with it. An alarm was sounded from box 8, which brought out the department in force. By the time they arrived the roof of the building was all ablaze, but they speedily succeeded in getting it under control. Owing to the distance of the fire plugs, but one engine could be put into service and two sections of hose were used.

The loss will amount to about $150, upon which there was no insurance. The brickyard is owned by Mr. T. W. Grubbs.

Death of George C. Barr.

George Culvert Barr, son of Charles B. Barr, of Oakland, died yesterday morning at six o'clock of typhoid fever. He was a young man of more than ordinary promise, and his death, although not entirely unexpected, will be a severe shock to his parents and friends. He was engaged last summer in the engineer corps of the Connellsville railroad under Mr. Arche, while on the experimental line between Pittsburgh and Chicago, and after the party had been called in from field operations, he, with a few others, was retained for office duty. It is thought he contracted the disease during their service in the field last summer. His funeral will take place on Tuesday morning from the residence of his grandfather, James McGinnis, Esq., of Oakland.

Pittsburgh Female College.

This favorite Seminary has been so long and so successfully in operation that we are prone to call it venerable. Its accumulation of educational conveniences and accessories; the training and culture in both solid and ornamental branches of large numbers of young ladies heretofore; the constantly increasing patronage extended to it; the zeal and devotion of the Principal, Dr. Pershing, and of his strong faculty of accomplished teachers, and the large number of pupils enrolled for the term just commenced, are all so many testimonials of the high claims of the Pittsburgh Female College to the universal confidence which it has inspired in this city and the surrounding country. Application can be made at the college office for admission of pupils, and on all other business of the Institution.

Brutal Affair.

If there is a city in the United States that needs Bergh worse than Pittsburgh we have not heard of it. Among the many brutal affairs we have seen, the one witnessed on Saturday excels them all. Several men and boys wishing to take their spite out of a poor old horse, because, as they say, "he would not pull," took him down to the Point, and there, in the most inhuman way, commenced to kill him by inches. They had a small brass pistol, and making this dumb brute the target, commenced to fire. One shot him in the nose, one in the neck, then another in the eye, and at each shot they would cheer, and the crowd curse the man or boy who shot last for his poor shooting. Twice the poor brute started to swim the river, but each time came back on account of the ice. The cowardly heathens had to leave him bleeding at the eyes, nose and mouth, for want of further ammunition, and, we presume, would return to again commence their barbarous and devilish work. Why they were not arrested we can not say, but do hope the Mayor will yet try and find out their names, as hanging would be too good for such mean, cowardly whelps.

Y. M. C. A.

On Saturday evening the regular monthly meeting of this association was held at their rooms, Penn and Sixth streets, and as usual the meeting was full of interest to those engaged in the work and of entertainment to those who went as visitors. After the usual opening exercises reports were presented from various committees, showing that they are all working earnestly in the cause, among other reports the music committee reported that arrangements had been made for a free concert to be given in their rooms by the Pittsburgh Quintette Club on Thursday evening, April 24th.

After transacting some business pertaining to the work, the Rev. Mr. Scovel was introduced and briefly but earnestly and pointedly addressed the audience on the subject—Formation of Character. His address was an interesting one, and the only fault that could be found was that time enough could not be given him to dwell upon the different shades of thought, such as would have enabled him to impress his thoughts upon his listeners more fully; as it was, however, the audience were delighted with him. The choir of Trinity church, consisting of Mrs. Shieb, soprano, Miss Hughes, contralto, Mr. Brecht, tenor, Mr. Boehme, bass and Mr. Haughwont at the organ, furnished the music, singing at different stages in the proceedings, "Lord, forever at Thy side," "Saviour, source of every blessing," a soprano solo (ballad) and "Remember O Lord." The singing was excellent and pleased and delighted all, making them long for more.

A Viligant Policeman.

Some of our guardians of the night are very sensitive, rather too much so as a general rule. They forget that a part of their duty is to keep cool, and never to let their angry temper rise. A case in point occurred a few nights since, which is worthy of note. As one of them was walking along on his beat through ——— street, at about half past eleven at night, he observed an individual standing in the doorway of a store; approaching him, he requested him to move on, and as the stranger did not immediately start, he asked him his name. The stranger did not reply, but took his hands out of his pockets and put them up in front of the policeman's face. In an instant the officer grabbed the culprit, and with considerable dignity succeeded in carrying him to the Station House, placing him before the lieutenant in charge. In reply to an inquiry from the lieutenant, the officer related what had taken place, and also stated that the culprit had attempted to strike him with his fists. The lieutenant then asked the stranger what he had to say to the charge. The stranger did not speak a word, but instead took out a slate and pencil and wrote, "I am a deaf mute; I have been to the deaf mute re-union at the ——— Hotel, and stood in the doorway waiting for a horse car to carry me home." Perhaps the officer did not feel streaked amidst the laughs and jeers of his brother officers. A suitable apology was made to the deaf mute, who was allowed to go on his way rejoicing, while the officer was instructed not to be quite so fast at another time.

TERRIBLE DEATH.

A Man Crushed Under a Ton of Iron Ore.

Saturday afternoon an accident occured at Jones & Laughlins' metal yards, Sixth ward, Allegheny, in which a workman met with an instant and terrible death. The yard is used for the storage of iron oar which is bought over the Cleveland Railroad and the cars switched off over a trestle work, where they are unloaded. Generally there is a large quantity of the ore which is piled up to the hight of ten feet. One of the workmen, John Sammel, was engaged in digging down one of those piles for the purpose of loading a boat. Desiring to make progress faster he commenced to undermine the mass—which was frozen quite solid. As he was following this plan suddenly a large mass from the top, weighing fully a ton, was loosened and fell down upon him.

He was thrown upon his back and the mass rolled upon him, literally flattening out the portion of his body upon which it rested. His fellow workman as soon as possible removed the weight from their dead comrade and had the remains taken to his late residence on Chartiers street, Sixth ward.

Yesterday morning Coroner West proceeded to the house and held an inquest. The body presented a most sickening spectacle, both legs being crushed almost to a jelly, the collar bone broken, the left side flattened in, and the left arm broken in several places. The jury after hearing the statements of those who saw the accident rendered a verdict of "accidental death."

The deceased was a Frenchman, about forty-seven years of age, and leaves a wife and four children, who were entirely dependent upon his days labor for support. The case is a distressing one in all its details, and affords an opportunity for philanthropists to exhibit a little practical sympathy.

The sight was deeply impressive to all present, and the communion services that followed precious, and very encouraging to the Church.

THE Steubenville Herald says: "A letter was received this morning from one of the glass men of Pittsburgh, to whom an offer of the loan of $10,000 for five years and an acre of ground, for location of glass works here, was made by our citizens. The letter states that the parties have concluded to decline the Steubenville offer, and it is more than likely will—although they do not say so—locate in Pittsburgh. The fault of not securing the works here is not attributable to our people, as they did what was asked of them by the Pittsburgh parties.

IN these days of sloppy spring weather, it may be well to know how to make boots waterproof. Take three ounces of spermaceti and melt it in a pipkin or other earthen vessel, over a slow fire, add thereto six drachms of India-rubber, cut into slices, and these will presently dissolve. Then add in the following order; tallow, eight ounces; hog's lard, two ounces; amber varnish, four ounces. Mix, and it will be fit for use immediately. The boots or other materials to be treated are to receive two or three coats with a common blacking-brush, and a fine polish is the result.

BLOWING OUT THE LIGHT.

A Stranger Almost Suffocated—Breathing Gas for Twelve Hours.

Some excitement was created at the St. James Hotel yesterday morning by the discovery that one of the guests was in a precarious condition from having breathed the gas from the bracket in his room, during the previous evening. It seems that about ten o'clock Saturday night, a man came to the hotel and registered his name as Milton Friend. He had just arrived on the train from Dennison, Ohio, and it was supposed was employed on the road as he had with him a laborer's pass. He was shown to a room and retired about ten o'clock. Yesterday morning he did not make his appearance at breakfast, but his absence was not noted. About eleven o'clock, one of the occupants of a room adjoining became impressed with the idea that there was a leakage of gas somewhere and, by the odor, traced it to Friend's room. A vigorous knocking at the door failed to elicit any response, and finally it was forced open by one of the servants, when Friend was found lying in bed, in an unconscious condition, while the room was filled with gas. Upon inspection it was found that the gas had not been turned off, but the light merely blown out. Evidently the gas apparatus was a new piece of mechanism with Friend and one with which he was not familiar.

Attempts were made to arouse him, but failing in this, the proprietor of the hotel sent for a physician. Dr. T. W. Shaw responded, and administered the usual remedies, but notwithstanding every exertion, the man remained unconscious until last night, when he first gave signs of returning consciousness by opening his eyes. He was still, however, unable to speak at ten o'clock, but the physician thought the danger was passed, and that he would recover.

He seemed to be a man about forty-two years of age, and of a vigorous constitution.

PEACE DAWNING.

Meeting of Railway Managers in Philadelphia Saturday Evening—Uniform Oil Freights Agreed Upon.

A meeting of railroad men, connected with the principal railways leading from the oil regions, held a meeting in Philadelphia on Saturday evening, at which an item of business was transacted which will be of considerable interest to oil producers and refiners. At this meeting it was finally decided to charge uniform rates on all the various lines, to producers as well as refiners, without discriminating in favor of any party. This will doubtless settle the unpleasantness which has lately existed between the South Improvement Company and the oil producers.

Like a Coffee Mill.

All machines, of whatever kind, are more or less valuable, according to the simplicity of their construction and the improbability of their becoming out of order. This is particularly the case with sewing machines. The universal verdict is that the Singer Machine is the simplest and most easily run of any of the various machines offered for sale. A lady the other day very tersely and appropriately referred to this fact. She said that any woman who could not work a Singer Machine would be unable to use a coffee mill. The Singer can be seen and examined at Straw & Morton's, No. 20 Sixth street.

THE COURTS.

Saturday's Proceedings.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE STOWE.

In the Criminal Court Saturday morning, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Comegeys et al. was resumed. The testimony was concluded, but the arguments will not be heard until this morning.

George Hall, convicted of robbing a man on Sixth street, was called up for sentence. The court sentenced him to undergo three years' imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

Neal McCallion, convicted of keeping a disorderly house, was sentenced to the Work House for nine months and a fine of $300.

John Walker, of the Thirteenth ward, plead nolle contendre to a charge of selling liquor without license. Sentence deferred.

Wm. Upcraft was released from jail under the insolvent act—he having served a term since December last. He was committed by reason of his inability to give bail in the sum of $500 to insure his payment of $4 per week to his wife, whom he had deserted.

THE TRIPARTITE BRIDGE.

What the Coal Men Think of It—Meeting of the Coal Exchange on Saturday—Councils Asked to Reconsider the Plans.

The Coal Exchange held a meeting Saturday morning, at which the Tripartite Bridge question came up for discussion, and the following resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, The Tripartite Bridge Company are endeavoring to get a modification of their charter to enable them to make a lower bridge and shorter spans, and that, in our opinion, said bridge will be a very serious obstruction to navigation, and will practically destroy the harbor on the Allegheny, be it, therefore,

Resolved, That we earnestly and respectfully call the immediate attention of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Councils to this matter; and ask that they appoint a committee to investigate the plan of said bridge and modifications, and take such action as will preserve our rivers and harbor from unnecessary obstructions.

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed to furnish Councils with a copy of these resolutions.

On motion, Capt. R. C. Gray, J. A. Blackmore, Simpson Horner and Geo. T. Miller were appointed said Committee.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Resolved, That we earnestly protest against hasty legislation on this subject, and request our Representatives at Harrisburg to oppose any modification of the charter of the Tripartite Bridge Company.

The ——— improvement ——— Monongahela slackwater was also considered and was discussed at some length. The following resolution was offered and adopted.

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to confer with General Moorhead to see what action, if any, be necessary to secure the raising of the three lower dams and the construction of a sluice through dam No. 1 the present season, and report to the Coal Exchange.

Messrs. Miller. Horner and Brown were appointed as said committee.

Public Entertainments.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Humiliating though it may be for us to be compelled to acknowledge the fact, yet the fact is none the less a verity, that the engagement of Kate Raymond, in her sensational play of the "Waifs of New York," was much more of a success financially, than was that of Mrs. Chanfrau, in such plays as "Dora" and "Christie Johnstone." Such is the morbid craving of our amusement patrons for the sensational to the exclusion of the legitimate drama. And this being the case, we are inclined to be charitable with Manager Ellsler, if, while he acts as caterer to the public appetite in the way of dramatic amusement, he furnishes such food as will satisfy this morbid craving. Perhaps it would have a wholesome effect in the end, if the people should have a surfeit of such stuff as they are receiving at present, during the remainder of the season; then, after the nausea which would naturally follow had given place to a more natural and wholesome appetite, something of a higher order might be relished. This week, we are to have from Manager Ellsler's company Fred. G. Maeder's dramatization of Ned. Buntline's story, "Buffalo Bill," with Mr. J. Newton Gotthold in the title role.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—It is announced that this week is to be the last of the season at the Fifth Avenue. Last week several of the principal artists in Mr. Beamer's company took benefits, and these were such as to be quite flattering, as showing the success which had met their efforts to please the public during the season now drawing to a close. Other members of the company, with the ushers and officers in attendance, are this week to make a modest demand upon the public for some recognition of their claims, and we are sure the demand will not be unheeded. For to-night the sensational drama of "The Long Strike" is announced.

LIBRARY HALL.—The Academy of Art and Design is at present one of the most attractive places in which to while away an hour or two in the city. The gallery is open day and evening.

MANAGER BEAMER, of the Fifth Avenue Opera House, who closes his season at that theatre with this week, has secured the Academy of Music for a spring season, which he proposes to inaugurate on Monday, April 1st, with Mr. Robert McWade in "Rip Van Wynkle."

SIDNEY MARLOWE, an actor of considerable merit, is announced to appear as "Richelieu," at the Pittsburgh Opera House, on the 13th of May.

In Memoriam.

WHEREAS, it has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst by death Wm. Torrence, a loved and honored member of the "Everet Literary Society;" therefore Resolved, That the death of Wm. Torrence is to us a source of profound sorrow.

Resolved, That as a man, as a citizen, and as a friend he was deserving of our highest esteem.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of the deceased our heartfelt sympathy for them in their sore bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the friends of Wm. Torrence, and also that they be published in the Pittsburgh Weekly GAZETTE.

Equalization of assessments is the matter that is now engaging general attention throughout the city; but it is a disputed point which does not trouble those who purchase the clothing ready-made or custom made at Urling, Follansbee & Co.'s, southwest corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue. All the patrons of this firm are satisfied of the "equalization of assessments" put upon their goods, and the excellence of everything that is turned out from the establishment.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

The Old Reinhardt Hotel, on Penn Street, Partially Burned.

Last night at ten o'clock an alarm of fire was struck from box 34, corner of Liberty and Eleventh streets. The occasion was the discovery of fire in the first story of the old Reinhardt Hotel, on Penn street, near Eleventh. The building is three stories high, and, latterly, seems to have been unoccupied, excepting one room in the first story, which was occupied as a drinking saloon. A light was discovered a little before ten o'clock, in the hall, by Officer Alstadt, who at once sounded the alarm, and proceeded to burst open the hall door. The fire now seemed to be bursting through the stairway running to the second floor. From some cause there seems to have been considerable delay in having the water turned on from the department, and the fire had gained considerable headway; but after the engines of the district began playing, they speedily brought it under control. Shortly after the breaking out of the fire in the hall, flames were discovered in the third story, in the rear of one of the front rooms. It would seem from this, and the fact that there was supposed to be no fire about this portion of the house, that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The fire burned up the stairway to the third story in the hall, the front part of the building was so much damaged, the floor of the third story room, where the fire was last discovered, was burnt through, and the entire building, excepting the room occupied as a saloon, was gutted and flooded with water.

The building is owned by Mr. Wm. Carr. The bar room was, we understand, until recently, occupied by Frank Hogle; but a short time since it changed hands, and the present proprietor of the shop, as near as we could learn, is a German, belonging to Allegheny. He did not appear on the premises at the time of the fire, and we were unable to learn his name. The other apartments of the house were partially furnished, but did not seem to be occupied. When last occupied, we were told, it was as an emigrant hotel.

The loss to Mr. Carr will be about $1,000. We could not learn whether or not the property was insured.

A Trinity Tombstone.

Tender interest clings round an unpretentious and almost undiscovered tomb, in Trinity Church yard, which is seen by but few; it lies so close to Broadway that it may almost be touched from the sidewalk. All old New Yorkers at least will recall the melancholy story of a young and most beautiful girl, who, nigh upon a hundred years ago, was taken from a boarding school by a British officer of high rank and by him betrayed and deserted. Discarded by her friends, she with her child were found by her father in wretched quarters, both at the point of death. The heart-broken parent was just in time to receive her last sigh and close her eyes forever. The pitiful story was written out in book form, and was dramatized and played in every theatre then in the country, thus becoming familiar as household words to thousands who had no personal knowledge of any of the parties. Years thereafter the officer made such tardy reparation as he could by placing a stone table with an expensive silver head-plate over the remains of his dead victims. This silver plate has been wrenched off and stolen by sacrilegious thieves, and now all that remains to mark the last resting place of these unhappy ones, is a plain brown stone slab, lying level with the paved walks in Trinity Church yard, and bearing these two words, "Charlotte Temple."

Help the Poor.

The colder and severer the weather, the greater the suffering of the poor in our midst, and the greater the necessity for looking after them. Those of our friends who have comfortable homes, bright fires and cheerful friends around them, during this searching cold weather should not forget there are many, very many, human beings, who have a claim upon them and their charities, around us who are suffering for the necessaries of life, as well as for fuel for fires, and clothing to keep their bodies warm and comfortable. Let not the greed of gain choke out the claims of the poor, whose cries come up from every direction, and which appeal loudly for aid. Aid them. Give liberally and you yourselves shall not know want. Give provisions, coal, clothing, money—anything that will relieve their sufferings and make their hearts glad, and these acts of kindness and benevolence will return to you with blessings and rejoicings. Remember the poor.

REPUBLICAN
County Convention.

THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY are requested to meet at the usual places for holding Primary Elections in the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, on SATURDAY, March 30th, 1872,

in the Cities and Boroughs, between 4 and 7 o'clock, P.M., and in the Townships between 4 and 6 o'clock, P.M., and elect one delegate from each election district to attend a

COUNTY CONVENTION,

to be held at the COURT HOUSE on

TUESDAY, April 2d, 1872,

at 11 o'clock, A.M., for the purpose of electing ten delegates to represent the County in the STATE CONVENTION, which is to assemble at Harrisburg on the 10th of April next.

The Primary Election shall be held, as far as practicable, by the Republican Members of the Election Boards in the different districts; and, where the Republican voters are a minority of the regular Board, the voters present are authorized to elect enough additional Republicans to complete the Board.

The Executive Committee have unanimously recommended that the above delegates to the State Convention shall be chosen as follows: Three Senatorial Delegates—one from between the rivers, one from south of the rivers and one from north of the rivers; and seven Representative Delegates—two from the city of Pittsburgh, two from Allegheny City, one from the north of the rivers and two from the south of the rivers.

By order of the Republican County Executive Committee.

ORDINANCES.

AN ORDINANCE—Creating the office of Meat Inspector, and defining his duties.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same, That it shall be unlawful to sell, expose or offer for sale within the city of Allegheny for food any cattle, sheep, swine or other animals, fish or fowl, or the flesh thereof, or any other article, thing or merchandise, which by reason of any injury, defect, disease, taint or adulteration is unfit or unwholesome for food or dangerous to the public health; and the exposure of the same at any market, store room or place whereat articles of food are sold, shall be prima facie evidence of the violation of this Ordinance.

SEC. 2. If any person shall sell, expose or offer for sale for food any article, thing or merchandise, contrary to the provisions of the first section of this Ordinance, such person shall be arrested and brought before the Mayor of said city, and if, upon hearing, the Mayor shall adjudge such person to be guilty of such offense, he shall impose upon the offender a fine not exceeding the sum of fifty dollars for the first offense, and not exceeding the sum of one hundred dollars for the second offense, and shall adjudge the property so unlawfully exposed for sale to be forfeited to the city of Allegheny, and to be sold or otherwise disposed of by the Inspector of Meats.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of Councils in joint session annually to elect a suitable person as Inspector of Meats, said Inspector to be a professional butcher. It shall be the duty of said Inspector of Meats to strictly enforce all the provisions of this ordinance, to arrest all offenders and make complaint against them before the Mayor, to seize all articles and merchandise sold, exposed or offered for sale contrary to this ordinance and dispose of the same in accordance with the judgment given by the mayor upon the hearing of each case, and he shall keep a correct account of all sales and dispositions made as aforesaid, and make a report thereof quarterly to Councils.

SEC. 4. All moneys made by the sales of articles and merchandise as aforesaid, after defraying the necessary expenses incident to the proceedings, and the salary of said Inspector of Meats shall be appropriated to the poor fund of the city.

SEC. 5. The Inspector of Meats before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe before the Mayor an oath of affirmation that he will faithfully and honestly perform the duties imposed on him by this ordinance and give bond, to be approved by the President of Select Council, in the sum of five thousand dollars, with two sufficient sureties, conditioned that he will faithfully perform all the duties of his said office, and account for all property and money which shall come into his hands or control.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the Police of the city, under the direction of the Mayor, to aid the Inspector of Meats in the enforcement of the provisions of this Ordinance; and it shall be the duty of the Inspector of Meats to enter in and upon the premises of all persons, and into all markets and places where articles of merchandise are exposed or sold for food, and make examinations and inspections of such articles and merchandise, and any person who shall impede, interrupt or resist said officer in the performance of his duties shall, upon conviction thereof before the Mayor, be adjudged to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

Ordained and enacted into a law this, the 18th day of March, A.D. 1872.

JAMES McBRIER, President of Select Council.
Attest: JOSEPH R. OXLEY, Clerk of Select Council.
HUGH McNEILL, President pro tem. of Common Council.

AN ORDINANCE—Providing for the collection of Water Assessments for Building Purposes, &c.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That that part of Section 1st amending the 17th Section of Chapter 17th of the new City Code relating to the assessment of water rents or taxes for building purposes shall be amended as follows, viz.: Houses built of stone or brick, or partly stone and partly brick, containing rooms of ordinary size, $1.50 per room; frame dwellings with rooms of ordinary size, $1.00 per room. The above rates shall be for the entire water used for the construction and cleaning of such buildings, and it shall be the duty of the Assessor of Water Rents to collect the said tax from the owner or owners of such property as soon as such buildings or additions are finished; and all churches, school-houses or other public buildings shall be assessed at the following rates: for each perch of stone laid 4 cents; for each 1,000 brick 7 cents; Plastering, 2 per cent. on the cost or contract price; also, 2 per cent for concrete or grouting, and shall be collected from the trustees, building committees, directors or other custodians of such buildings or additions. It shall be the duty of the Assessor of Water Rents to collect said water taxes, who is hereby authorized to enforce payment in the same manner as regular water assessments are collected when placed in the hands of collectors of delinquent taxes.

SEC. 2. All Ordinances or parts thereof inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law this 18th day of March, A.D. 1872.

JAMES McBRIER, President of Select Council.
Attest: J. R. OXLEY, Clerk of Select Council.
HUGH McNEILL, President pro tem. of Common Council.

AN ORDINANCE—Supplementary to an Ordinance passed the 24th day of January, A. D. 1872, entitled an Ordinance requiring the placing of flagmen at certain streets in the city of Allegheny, crossed by the West Pennsylvania Railroad.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the flagmen required by Ordinance to be placed at the points at which the West Pennsylvania Railroad crosses Pine and Bridge streets, shall remain placed at said crossings between the hours of 6 A. M. and 7 P. M. daily, and at no other hours.

SEC. 2. Any person or persons, who shall attempt to cross the said railroad at either of said points, whilst said flagmen are giving notice, by a red flag, of an approaching train, or engine, shall be liable to, and shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than five, nor more than ten dollars.

Ordained and enacted into a law this 18th day of March, A. D. 1872.

JAMES McBRIER, President of Select Council.
Attest: J. R. OXLEY, Clerk of Select Council.
HUGH McNEILL, President pro tem. of Common Council.
Attest: R. DILWORTH, Clerk of Common Council. mh22

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing the grading, paving and curbing of South alley from Evans alley to the Railway.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Committee on Streets be, and they are hereby authorized and directed, to invite and receive proposals for the grading, paving and curbing South alley as aforesaid, and to contract therefor with the lowest and best bidder or bidders, at their discretion.

SEC. 2. That for defraying the cost and expenses of the same, there is hereby levied a special assessment, said assessment to be made and collected, as provided by the Act of Assembly, entitled an "Act relative to streets in the city of Allegheny," approved April 1st, 1870.

SEC. 3. That all Ordinances and parts of Ordinances inconsistent with the same be and are hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law, this the 18th day of March, A. D. 1871.

JAMES McBRIER, President of Select Council.
Attest: J. R. OXLEY, Clerk of Select Council.
HUGH McNEILL, President pro tem. of Common Council.
